BILBO QUERIES HOOVER ON NEGRO DANCE STORY

Asks Candidate To Let People Know Facts of Case.

Jackson, Miss., October 24.—(AP)—In a telegram to Herbert Hoover to day, Governor Theodore G. Bilbo said his information regarding reports that the republican presidential candidate had danced with a negro woman on rumor and he had so stated in his speech. He then asked Mr. Hoover to say whether he thought it was "in decent" to dance with a negro woman. George Akerson, assistant to Mr. Hoover, denied in a recent telegram to Governor Bilbo that Hoover had danced with a negro woman. Mr. George Akerson, and which telegram I presume meets with your approval. I desire to say that the statement that you had danced with Mary Boose in Washington was made by me on common rumor and I so stated in my speech in Memphis, Tenn. "The rumor has been current in Mississippi for some time that Mary Boose stated after returning from a meeting of the republican national committee in Washington that she had danced with Mr. Hoover. "Now I do not desire to be unfair to you in the slightest degree, but I want to ask you if you think it would be offensive to you or indecent if I were to say that you had danced with Mary Boose, a member of the negro race, then why do you get exercised and all heated up when it is said of you that you danced with Mary Boose. If you do not consider it indecent to meet socially or dance with a negro why am I being denounced for repeating the story that you had done so? "Please answer these questions so the people can know from your own lips whether or not I have done you an injustice."

COX URGES SOUTH TO REBUKE G. O. P.

Nashville, Tenn., October 24.—(AP)—In a severe indictment of the republican party's drive in the south in general and Senator William E. Borah in particular, James M. Cox, democratic presidential candidate in 1920, in an address here tonight urged southern democrats "for such a moral condemnation as will, in the days to come, spare the country from another repetition of the Hermitage and the pitiless shame of this campaign."

Mr. Cox said the present campaign was strikingly similar to Jackson's campaign of 100 years ago. Mrs. Jackson, he said, was killed by the "poison of slander" and although "100 years have come and gone, human nature has not changed. The same passions are present," he said. "The sneer, the poison tongue, the violation of the sacred places of home."

The publisher and former governor of Ohio touched on farm relief, prohibition and religion in his address, but devoted most of it to Senator Borah, who he described as a "political adventurer, who in some form or other, has been under every political flag that has flown in the breeze from the days of free silver until now."

BOSTON TERMINAL IS SHOWN IN FILM BEFORE STUDY CLUB

A two-reel motion picture of the Boston market terminal was shown before a meeting of the Atlanta Traffic Study club in the chamber of commerce building Wednesday night through the courtesy of W. J. The film also showed federal and state owned properties in the city of Boston, including the large army base, the largest drydock in America and the Boston fish pier, where 300,000,000 pounds of fish are handled annually.

Hardwick Predicts Big Victory for Democracy In Address at Newnan

Hoover Termed "Turncoat" Who Urged U. S. To Enter League in 1919 by Speaker.

BY BEN COOPER, Staff Correspondent.

Newnan, Ga., October 24.—(Special).—Branding Herbert Hoover as a "turncoat" who changes his politics and convictions with the election returns, and flaying the republican party as the same party which 10 years ago tried to "put the black heel on the white man's neck," former Senator Thomas W. Hardwick tonight in an address in the local auditorium predicted the overwhelming success of Governor Alfred E. Smith in the November 6 election. Following ex-Senator Hardwick's address, democratic leaders of Coweta county expressed the firm belief that the county would go for Smith by 1,500 votes. Among the party leaders on the stage were the following members of the Coweta county executive committee: R. L. Dukes, X. O. Newman, W. H. Wood, J. A. Latimer, J. Rex Brown, C. B. Brooks, J. D. Starr, J. R. Bagdale, J. A. Holliman, J. W. Sewell, W. Jackson, Benjamin Davis, C. W. Reese, B. S. Bryant and W. D. Gibson.

Hoover was a democrat until the democratic party lost out, then he turned republican, and after November 6, he will probably try to rejoin the democratic party. Mr. Hardwick declared. As an instance of Hoover's "turncoatism," the speaker said that in 1919, Hoover stated that the world "would perish if the United States did not join the League of Nations, and now he says it will perish if it does join."

Not an "Ex-Democrat." Introduced to the audience as an ex-governor, ex-congressman and ex-senator of Georgia, Mr. Hardwick declared: "Thank God I am not an ex-democrat."

A considerable portion of the address was devoted to a solemn warning of the dangers to the south if the republicans win in November. The south may well expect a taste of reconstruction days, when the negro politicians were in power and the ballot boxes of the south were guarded by federal bayonets.

"The republican party of 60 years ago has not changed its spots in one iota," ex-Senator Hardwick declared. "The 'infamous' Dyer bill, declaring that Dyer is promising the south a second reconstruction, and is promising the negro absolute equality with the white man."

"Ask the Hoovers if they have ever heard of the Dyer bill," he said. "Ask the Hoovers if they have ever heard of the Dyer bill, which is the chief of the republicans' 'Hoover' bill, as Hardwick referred to it. 'Hoover' democrats, and 'anti-Smith' democrats, a lot of bad words, Hardwick said. 'I'm sorry for you, but if you lie down and let them do you, you are certain to get up with fleas.'"

Deals With Scandals. Mr. Hardwick said his respects to "Ward" (United States Senator John "Bud" Stratton and Bishop Cannon, Almsworth and Dubose, stating that democrats enacted the first real law restricting the power of the republicans are yelling, "Me too." As for the charges made by "anti-Smith" democrats against Tammany Hall, Hardwick declared that Tammany Hall was in Philadelphia, "which nominated Hoover," and to Big Bill Thompson's machine in Chicago. The man convicted in the severe scandal in New York was a Hyman and Eastman man and not an Al Smith supporter, while Morton, the negro civil service commissioner of New York, was appointed by Hyman, who hates Smith, Hardwick said.

The famous Clinton S. Carnes case was brought into the discussion by Hardwick, who said that he despises "paraded piety." Carnes told everybody, before his disappearance, that he "had so much conscience and so much Christianity that he could not vote for Smith," Hardwick said.

The Real Issue. Religion is the real issue brought by Smith's opponents instead of the prohibition issue, Hardwick said. He cited the fact that "Wilson, Davis and Cox were as set as Smith in so far as personal views go." Bishop Cannon, Dubose and the others voted for these two democrats without thinking of religion or moral issues, but they now raise it," he said. Hardwick declared: "We've got with burners yet," and said that intolerance and bigotry are enthroned whenever religious leaders get charge of state and civil affairs.

Hoover, the "turncoat," is a Quaker, and Quakers are conscientious objectors to war, so Hoover objected to serving in the war and went to work in the commissary, Hardwick said. "The Quakers were burned at Washington may have been Hebrew. He may have been a Georgia Cracker, or a Catholic boy. But you may be sure that Hoover was a Quaker. Hardwick said. "We would be in a devil of a fix in war time with a Quaker in charge of the army and navy."

Hardwick charged that Hoover did not start voting until he was 43 years old. Congressman W. C. Wright introduced ex-Senator Hardwick. Congressman Wright said that a careful study since the convention in Houston to him that the speaker would make the best president in 50 years.

LINDY WELCOMED BACK IN MEXICO

Eagle Pass, Texas, October 24.—(AP)—Given "carte blanche" by Mexican officials, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today was in the Hal Mangum ranch, across the border, south of here, where he is to begin a bear hunt.

Colonel Lindbergh arrived here last night, went across the Rio Grande to Piedras Negras for dinner, and returned to Eagle Pass, where he spent the night. Mexican officials, including General Manuel Mesa, in charge of the military of Coahuila, met him to-day, bringing greetings from President Calles. Lindbergh shortly afterward left in his plane for the Mangum ranch by Mangum and Sheriff Albert Hauser of Eagle Pass.

Just before he headed off, the flying colonel said: "We are here and on the way with a pleasant and successful trip so far."

It was intimated by members of the party that Lindbergh might go to Mexico City after the hunt and then return to the United States via El Paso.

PACT TO CONTROL RUBBER IS BARED

80 per cent of the world's rubber—would effectively give British-Dutch interests undisputed control of world rubber production. The failure of the conferences between British and Dutch rubber interests, it was learned, was over their inability to agree on the apportionment of production restriction. A committee of Dutch planters from the East Indies went to Holland and to England to discuss the results, but a series of meetings resulted in no agreement.

Fail To Agree. It was reliably learned the Dutch committee for misadventure returned to Holland after a recent London meeting with British rubber planters after failure to work out any agreement.

The rubber market in the United States disclosed that American rubber brokers are not anticipating any immediate agreement of the combine. Crude rubber for delivery 12 months hence was being sold at only a slight premium on the New York market Tuesday, 19 cents a pound, as compared with 18 cents per pound asked for crude rubber for immediate delivery.

Ford, Firestone, the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and other American rubber firms were forced to enter the rubber production field on a large scale by the pressure of high prices from the Stevenson restriction act, but the exorbitant plantation projects undertaken will not be producing for between five and eight years, and further efforts by Great Britain to boost rubber prices are being watched closely in the United States.

Ford To Develop Area. Ford has secured a concession from Brazil to an area reported to be over 3,000,000 acres, and although it is reported most of this area will be devoted to rubber production.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company late in 1927 purchased about 30,000 acres in the Dutch East Indies in addition to expanding its other plantations in Java.

The United States Rubber company has extended greatly its plantations and bought additional properties in Dutch East Indies and British Malaya to combat foreign monopoly of rubber.

Carter's attorneys brought action against Warden Snook alleging errors in the form of a total of eight years in sentences imposed on him under three indictments.

The court held that, while irregular, the form of sentence did not nullify its effect.

Hartsfield, Drennon in Row As Aviation Body Convenes

Both claim pugilistic title at city hall. Alderman William B. Hartsfield, of the third ward, and Councilman Raleigh Drennon, of the ninth, fought a bloodless battle to a draw without passing a single blow Wednesday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at the city hall.

Both are still claimants to the pugilistic campaign of the Atlanta city hall and neither disputed the other's prowess Wednesday night.

Other members of the aviation committee of city council acted as timekeepers, referees and spectators, while the word battle between the belligerents grew so heated that interference was necessary to prevent an actual clash. Miss May Renuau, secretary of the Aviation Committee, William A. Hartsfield, who was acting as recording secretary of the session discreetly omitted any reference to the engagement in the notes of the session.

Without waiting for the bell, Drennon leaped to his feet when Hartsfield aimed a verbal right towards the councilman's jaw with an insinuation that the latter was a "liar."

The chairman of the aviation stood up—his dignity, however, yelled at Drennon to resume his seat. On failure of Drennon to retire to his corner with as much alacrity as he had left it, Hartsfield thought it better to meet his adversary standing and also jumped to his feet and squared off.

This action led Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, of the eighth; Councilman Tom Smith, of the twelfth, and newspapermen to intervene and open peace negotiations. One of the latter was almost caught in the jam when the two opponents threatened to clinch, standing in a range of a veritable barrage of heated words.

The heated altercation and near fight occurred during the discussion of a proposal offered by Hartsfield to permit the Sky View Aviation company to use Candler field as a base for carrying passengers for hire in a Ford trimotored plane. Drennon objected to the fact that Hartsfield failed to supply the committee with a written proposal from the company. This was finally agreed to.

The real issue arose when Hartsfield charged that Drennon had criticized the aviation field "all over town."

"Any man who says I have a hair," Drennon retorted. "I say so," Hartsfield countered. "That was the signal for action. Both men later attended the meeting of council."

FORMER FOOTBALL STAR TO FIGHT CASE

Chicago, October 24.—(United Press.)—Harold "Red" Grange, former Illinois gridiron star, was charged in a warrant sworn out today by Helen Fogel, 22, with being the father of her 7-months-old baby. The warrant was issued by Judge William Fetter. Attorneys who appeared with Miss Fogel told Judge Fetter that their client would be willing to settle for "what the law allows." Under the law, the girl would receive approximately $1,150. The former gridiron star, noted for his sensational run during his college career and later on professional fields, is playing in a Chicago theater in a show called "Come On, Red." He is doing a song and dance number.

CAMPBELL FARMER SENTENCED TO DEATH

Fairburn, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—One hour after the jury had been given the case of George ("Butter") McElwain, young Campbell county farmer charged with the murder of Warner Rainwater, 50, also a farmer, it returned a verdict of guilty without a recommendation for mercy. Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit immediately sentenced McElwain to death in the electric chair December 5. Rainwater was shot and fatally wounded last August 30 as he was walking along the road about four miles from here. He died three days later. McElwain was arrested, charged with the shooting. Evidence was introduced during the trial tending to show that the marriage of Rainwater's daughter to McElwain's brother last February aroused enmity between the two families as an outgrowth of which the shooting occurred. McElwain, represented by Peck, Randolph and Wimberly, claimed self-defense. He testified that the older man advanced upon him with a knife making remarks derogatory to his (McElwain's) family. Solicitor General Claude C. Smith prosecuted the case. Witnesses included Dr. E. J. Green and Dr. P. J. Smith, who gave testimony concerning the nature of the slain man's wounds. Two negroes also testified for the state, declaring they witnessed the shooting and identifying the defendant as the assailant.

The case attracted considerable attention here. A jury was chosen earlier in the day after three and a half panels of voters had been exhausted. Counsel for the condemned man signified their intention of filing a motion for a new trial.

SIGNS ALONG ROADS SOON TO BE REMOVED

An inspection of Fulton county's highways with a view to removing all billboards and signs which encroach upon the right of way will be started within the next few days by A. A. Clark, county superintendent of public works, and Chief of County Police George Matthews. It was announced Wednesday.

The signs are to be removed under an order of the county commission, which is aimed at all signs which encroach on the right of way and disfigure the scenery. Legitimate signs erected on leased private property by the leading outdoor advertising agencies are not included in the scope of the order, as the commission has no authority over such billboards, it was pointed out. The drive is directed at what are known as "wildcat" signs. All of the billboards erected in Fulton county by the three outdoor advertising agencies here are on private property which has been leased from the owners and are not affected by the order, it is stated by managers of the companies.

"Our billboards are on private leased property, and are all located 12 feet or more from the sidewalk line or right of way limit," said George Ripley, manager of the General Outdoor Advertising company. "We have erected no sign boards at road crossings nor in residential sections." Mr. Ripley said that other concerns frequently erect signs touching on property leased by his company, and that in his opinion 90 per cent of the signs seen throughout the county are trespassers. Of more than 3,000 signs between Atlanta and Macon only 15 were placed by his concern, Mr. Ripley said.

W. H. Wynne, Jr., sales manager of the Munn Advertising company, said that all of the Munn signs are on leased property, and that each of the billboards represented an investment of approximately $300. All of the Fulton Sign & Advertisement company's billboards are likewise on leased property, it was stated by J. W. Seaton, manager.

Chief of Construction William A. Howell, W. H. Torrance, engineer for the Atlanta planning commission, and John L. Cone, a member of the commission, also will be in the Atlanta party.

Mayor Luther Williams, of Macon, called the conference, and city and county governmental heads from all sections of the state have been invited in order to stimulate interest in the proposal on which the citizens of Georgia will ballot in the general election.

ATLANTA BUILDING DURING SEPTEMBER REGISTERS BIG GAIN

Increase of 58 per cent in Atlanta contracts for new building and engineering work during September was scored over the previous year, with a total for the month of $2,220,900, according to figures announced Wednesday by the F. W. Dodge corporation, of New York.

Residential construction contracts in the city totaled $1,300,000, or 62 per cent of the total; $322,900, or 25 per cent, was devoted to commercial buildings, and $160,000, or 7 per cent, for public buildings.

Contracts for September in Georgia totaled $6,190,100, according to the Dodge report. New construction started in the state since the first of this year has reached a total of $56,083,300, or 12 per cent ahead of the amount started during the corresponding period of 1922. Georgia's nine months' construction total amounted to $23,136,600, or 58 per cent in excess of total for the first nine months of last year.

RESUMPTION OF WORK ON SCHOOLS PREDICTED

City Council Votes To Permit National Surety Co. To Carry on Projects.

Immediate resumption of construction work on five school projects was seen Wednesday afternoon following a special meeting of city council.

That body voted to permit the National Surety company to resume the work, which was suspended several days ago when the Joe W. Stout company met financial difficulties and suspended work. The company was bonding house for the Stout organization, and will take steps to speed up construction.

Council also voted to permit the school department to erect a connecting runway from the main building at the Commercial High school to the annex at the third story, thus eliminating the necessity for students going from one building to another to descend stairs and walk practically around an entire block to attend classes.

Schools affected in the Stout contract are Morningside, Grant Park, Highland State and Edgewood and Whiteford Avenue.

NOMINEES OF CARROLL PLEDGE PARTY FAITH

Every Candidate Signs Statement Pleading for Loyalty.

Carrollton, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—Unqualified support of the democratic ticket, national, state and local, is contained in a pledge just adopted by party nominees of this section, including those for congress, judiciary, legislature and county offices.

Georgia, the pledge declares, "Will remain true to the tradition of the party of our fathers" on election day. The pledge assailed the prediction of Congressman Dyer, author of the anti-lynch bill, and predicted that the solid south will not be split by republican defections. It follows:

"We, the undersigned nominees, nominated at the late primary election, do hereby pledge our support to all the democratic nominees, county, state and national, to be elected on November 6, next, and we insist and urge that all democrats stand by their party and vote for the democratic nominees for president and vice president, or rather the democratic electors appearing on the democratic ticket."

"The solid south" will not be split in the November election by the Hoover "wedge" as hoped for and predicted by Congressman Dyer, the author of the infamous Dyer anti-lynch bill, now before congress and directed at the south, the enactment of which is pledged in the republican platform, and the provisions of which would extort from the taxpayers of any county in which a lynching occurs a penalty of $10,000 to be paid to the family of the person lynched.

"The state of Georgia, believing in white supremacy, and believing that government should stand for equal rights to all and special privileges to none, will remain true to the traditions of the party—the party of our fathers.

"The democracy of Carroll county should awaken to the importance of the issues involved in the present campaign, what they mean to the south and to the republic, and pile up a big majority for all the democratic nominees on November 6.

"Democracy was good enough for our fathers, it is good enough for all the governors of the south; all the United States senators from the south except two; all the congressmen from the southern states, and practically all the best statesmen and thinkers, both men and women, of the southland, all of whom are supporting the Smith-Robinson ticket. If they do not know what is best for the south, who does? You will make no mistake to follow their leadership.

"The country has ever gone forward under the administration of democratic officials.

"We appeal to you to support the democratic nominees.

"W. G. Wright, M. C.; C. E. Rood, J. S. C. C.; William Y. Atkinson, J. S. C. C.; C. C. C.; Joel J. Veal, commissioner R. and R.; E. T. Steel, ordinary; J. L. Webb, sheriff; O. K. Henderson, Jr., representative; Shirley C. Boykin, representative; A. W. Alexander, clerk S. C.; V. B. Toney, tax collector; Hugh C. Johnson, tax receiver; J. F. Brooks, superintendent education; O. C. Reid, coroner; O. B. Pearce, county surveyor."

The only statement he has made was that he did not wish an appeal to be taken in his case but wanted to die.

ANTI-SMITH QUERIES DRAW FIRE OF VINSON

Congressman Replied to Editor in All Details Monday.

Lincolnton, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—Not since the civil war has there been a national campaign that has had as much direct vital concern for the people of Georgia as the present one. Representative Carl Vinson, of Milledgeville, declared in an address here Monday.

Mr. Vinson took cognizance of the attitude of the local newspaper in the presidential campaign and declared that he would answer in detail questions propounded by its editor, whose editorial policy is anti-Smith, prior to his address. These the speaker replied to, and continued:

"In eight years the republicans have cut the income tax on big corporations. In addition to that the republican party produced Fall, Denby, Daugherty, Forbes, Miller and other lesser lights. Hoover sat side by side with these men and never even condemned them. Never in the history of our country has corruption run so rampant.

"Hoover's Cotton Policy.

"Hoover, in addition to that, while food administrator, tried to set the price of cotton at 16 cents during the war, when we were getting 40 for it. Only the vigorous efforts of our southern democratic senators and congressmen defeated his efforts.

Last year Secretary Jardine's department gave out an illegal statement which said that 24 per cent more cotton was produced in 1924 than in 1923. That one single illegal act cost the farmers of Georgia more than $10,000,000. Yet the Hoover democrats would have us vote to keep in power the man responsible for that.

Piggly Wiggly Hosts Enjoy Big Banquet

Marshburn, president of the Southern Stores Corporation, and Harry Brown, manager of the 32 local Piggly Wiggly stores and vice president of the Piggly Wiggly Company of Georgia.

A large picture of a negro Morton in New York dictating to his white stenographer. He tries to throw this in the face of a democrat for voting against Smith, saying that Governor Smith appointed him. The fact is that this man Morton was appointed by Mayor Hylan during his tenure in office and when he came up for reelection Al Smith left the capital in Albany and came down to New York and waged an unrelenting war on Hylan and defeated him in favor of Hylan Walker. The records show that during his term of eight years in office Governor Smith has appointed one negro to any public office. That was to the office of janitor at the capital.

"As to prohibition, I will say that Governor Smith will enforce this law better than it has ever been enforced. It will never be repealed nor modified and Governor Smith's record shows that so long as a law is on the books he will enforce it vigorously and impartially. So then after March 4 the people of America are going to know what prohibition really is. Suppose the ordinary as your country should go out and employ the largest ex-herb-keeper in the county for county policeman and assign him to the duty of enforcing the prohibition laws in this county. What would you do and think? That is exactly what the republican party did in placing Andrew Mellon at the head of the enforcement of prohibition.

"The issues are clear, the whole thing too plain. Will you go to the polls on November 6 and vote for the democratic party that has done so much for you or will you vote for your ancient and most bitter enemy?"

VICTOR IN THREE SUITS, MAE MURRAY FACES A NOTHER

Los Angeles, October 24.—(AP)—Victorious in three consecutive legal tilts, Miss Mae Murray, screen and vaudeville actress, today made ready for more court battles, in two of which she must participate to dispose of suits and charges growing out of her purchase of a house full of alleged antiques in Hollywood.

Just as Santa Monica, Calif., court acquitted her yesterday of a forcible entry into the Hollywood home of Jack Donovan, the actress fainter. After restoratives had been successfully used she called to her husband, Prince David Medivani.

"Baby, don't leave me."

The Georgian prince helped soothe the bump on her head.

Today her fourth legal battle opens with a $110,000 damage suit as the price. After that she must consider a $50 suit over a gown. Then another $50 action concerning some furniture.

Waycross, Ga., October 24.—Four men have been arrested in connection with the robbery last Friday night of Mrs. Nancy Miller, aged 70, a county woman who lives in the northern section of Ware county in the Jordan settlement. It was announced today by city and county officers. The investigation is being continued, and it is understood that the robbery is being linked with other robberies committed recently in south Georgia.

Mrs. Miller was robbed of more than $500 in cash, according to information given to authorities. The men who live on the farm were decoyed away from the house by two of the bandit quartet, while the other two entered the house, extinguished the light by knocking the kerosene lamp off the table, and flashed a strong light in the aged woman's face. They demanded that she turn over to them a sum of money she had on her person, and when she refused they searched her and made off with a large roll of bills.

HUGHES CALLS HOOVER LEADING PROGRESSIVE

Prosperity and Progress Aims of Majority, He Says at Chicago.

Chicago, October 24.—(AP)—Charles Evans Hughes, in his second speech in behalf of the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, declared here tonight that the political aims of the great majority of the American people could be summed up broadly in the words "prosperity and progress."

The former associate justice of the United States supreme court and secretary of state under President Harding, arrived in Chicago only a few hours before the time set for his address in a hall on the north side of the city.

"Progress demands stability, patience in dealing with problems on their merits, the search for the practical way, the talent to recognize it and leadership in pursuing it," he declared.

"The government can help in maintaining and extending prosperity, by economy, by protection to American interests through adequate tariff, by the extension through internal improvements of the facilities of transportation, and by giving the cooperation of government to cooperative endeavors, Mr. Hughes declared. It was to these four subjects, economy, tariff, transportation and cooperation, that Mr. Hughes devoted much of his speech.

As to progress, Mr. Hughes said the republican nominee's "whole bent is in devising improvements and in seeking a more abundant life for all."

"Mr. Hoover has no notion that this can be done by putting government unnecessarily into business," he continued. "He knows that would wreck both government and business. He knows that government cannot make the community rich by impoverishing the individuals that compose it. But he knows that government can help or harm. He knows that prosperity can be greatly stimulated by sound governmental policies and methods. He believes the policies which will aid most are those of the republican party."

MELTON TO DEBATE ANTI-SMITH LEADER

Griffin Editor and Spalding
County Bolter To Argue
Before Public.

Griffin, Ga., October 24.—(P)—A debate on the presidential election will be staged here Saturday night between Quincy Melton, editor of the Griffin News, and W. C. Jackson, anti-Smith chairman of Spalding county.

The debate grew out of an argument between the two. Mr. Jackson wrote the editor, asking him a question. The editor answered the question and Jackson came back with another question. The editor notified Jackson that readers of The News were not interested in his questions and that in order to answer them the editor challenged Jackson to a debate in one of three public buildings in Griffin.

Jackson accepted the challenge but wanted the debate held before a meeting of the Textile Association of Griffin, an organization with 100 members. The editor refused and said the debate must be held in one of three buildings down town.

The Democratic league of Spalding announced that Editor Melton would address a rally on Saturday night at the Athletic court and invited Jackson to be present and divide time. Jackson agreed this morning. Jackson will have 45 minutes to open and 15 minutes to close the debate. Editor Melton will have 60 minutes between Jackson's speeches. Judge Searcy, of the superior court, will preside.

MIGHTY SHIPMENT OF TOBACCO TAKEN ON POLAR JOURNEY

How many cigarettes a day does a man need when the thermometer reads 60 below zero?

Evidently Commander Richard E. Byrd figured it out, for Liggett & Myers Tobacco company received an order for 780,000 Chesterfield cigarettes, which are now on their way to the south pole in the ships of the Byrd antarctic expedition. The basis for this order was probably arrived at during the long wait for good weather in the Spitzbergen camp preceding Byrd's flight over the north pole. They just "ate up cigarettes" in those days, according to a member of the party.

Expedition headquarters questioned members, and when a majority of Byrd's picked men expressed a preference for Chesterfield, a two-year supply of that brand was ordered, in addition to generous stocks of such other Liggett & Myers products as Frattina and Piedmont cigarettes, Crater Rough Out and Velvet pipe tobacco, and Star tobacco for "eating" purposes.

BRUNSWICK GROUP PROTESTS SERVICE OF UTILITY FIRM

The state public service commission Wednesday heard a petition filed by certain citizens of Brunswick asking the commission to require the National Utilities company, of that city, to render their service. The people of Brunswick taken under advisement after the hearing. It was contended that the utility company is rendering service to some of the people of Brunswick but is unwilling to serve other people who desire its current.

The commission authorized the discontinuance of several small agency stations on various railroads making the provision that caretakers be provided.

Draper Named State Chairman For 'Navy Day'

In appreciation of the part played by Theodore Roosevelt in the upbuilding of the American navy, national celebration of Navy day will be held on the famous president's birthday, Saturday, October 27, with a two-day program of celebration scheduled in Atlanta.

Jesse Draper, lieutenant commander, United States navy reserves, has been appointed Navy day chairman.

JESSE DRAPER.

for Georgia by Walter Bruce Howe, president of the Naval League of the United States.

Broadcasting programs on Saturday and Sunday, presenting Rear Admiral Newton A. McCully, U. S. N., commander of the sixth naval district, with headquarters at Charleston, and various annual events on the program of the local naval reserve unit, will head Atlanta's observance.

A luncheon of the American Legion at 12:30 o'clock Friday at the Henry Grady hotel will mark participation of that organization in the program. From 6 to 7 o'clock Friday night a Navy day program will be broadcast over the Georgia Tech station and at 7 o'clock the annual naval reserve dinner will be held at the Georgian Terrace.

The annual banquet of the regular and reserve naval officers will be held at 7 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic club. At 10 o'clock Saturday night Admiral McCully will speak over WSB.

Observance of Navy day in Savannah is in charge of Commander C. C. Moses, U. S. N. The plans contemplate a large open house on two destroyers which will visit Savannah on Navy day. The Georgia star fair being held in Savannah this week is giving a dinner dance to the officers of the visiting destroyers Saturday night.

MISS KIPLINGER TALKS ON STYLES AT RICH'S BUREAU

Miss Gladys Stephen Kiplinger, style consultant of the Holeyproof hosiery company in New York, gave an interesting talk on the latest trends in style at a fashion tea at Rich's Wednesday. She explained the purpose of the new fashion bureau which has just opened at Rich's. Mrs. Virginia Warren is in charge of the bureau and is advising Atlanta women on "what to wear and when and where to wear it." Twice a week the bureau will have on display two complete ensembles harmonized in every detail from hat to gloves to shoes.

Miss Kiplinger discussed fashion coordination as the dominant theme in present-day style. The ensemble idea is still the law of fashion, she believes, and no single item of the costume can live by its own merits but must contribute to the harmony of the whole. She sums up the mode with: informality for morning—a bit more formality and soft femininity for afternoon—rich splendor for evening. Headlines lengthen with the shadows; more and more irregularity in skirts is confined to evening. Miss Kiplinger said that never before had there such versatility as in the present evening fashions; nothing is set or rigid about it and the smartest women choose jewels and frocks that express their own individualities.

The importance of color in hosiery was an interesting part of Miss Kiplinger's discussion. The colors that Lucille de Paris created for Holeyproof hose are on display in the fashion bureau.

Professor James P. Braxley, dean of Clark university, will give a short address.

Catarrh is Terrible Drain on Vitality

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as cold, flu, pneumonia, etc. Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runion, known to your druggist as Runion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh. Ask your druggist for WHITE WONDER today or mail thirty-five cents for a family jar, postpaid. White Wonder Chemical Company, 52 Greil Bldg., Montgomery, Ala. MRS. WILLIAMS' TALK CANNON DENIES GLASS OPENS W. C. T. U. MEET CHARGE DRYS PAID HIM

State Head Defends Stand Never Received More Than
Taken in Present Traveling Expenses,
Campaign. Bishop Retorts.

Bainbridge, Ga., October 24.—(AP)—The president's address, in which Mrs. Marvin Williams attacked the political leadership in Georgia and defended herself and her organization for the stand taken in the presidential campaign, marked the opening program today of the state convention of the W. C. T. U.

This forty-fifth annual Georgia convention launched its two-day meeting with an executive session at the DeKalb county courthouse, Mrs. Williams presiding. In the afternoon a public reception was given the visitors by Mayor W. L. Wilkerson in behalf of the city.

A resolution praising the record of Mrs. Williams was unanimously adopted by the convention. The resolution read as follows: "Resolved, we the members and friends of the Georgia W. C. T. U. express our approval of the magnificent work done by our state president, Mrs. Marvin Williams. We appreciate her poise, serenity of spirit and the frank way in which she has met the unjust, cruel attacks made upon her by some of the Georgia papers.

"Resolved, we not only express our appreciation and approval of work done but pledge to her our love and hearty cooperation for the work that lies before us. Signed: Mrs. Florence E. Atkins, Mary S. Russell, Mrs. J. L. McGarity, Mrs. O. L. Taylor, Mrs. W. C. McPherson."

Best Year in History.

Tonight's session, in addition to the president's address, was featured by a musical program which presented a chorus of fifty voices.

Mrs. Williams, in the course of her address, reviewed the year's activities of the organization, declaring it just had closed "the most momentous year in its history." The state W. C. T. U. head flayed "those who call us 'traitors' because we refuse to follow such a leader as Tammany."

"Imagine the white and holy banner of the W. C. T. U.," she said, "marching in the procession behind the 'wet' governor of New York. 'We are Christians before we are Democrats.' She predicted the election of Herbert Hoover, republican presidential nominee, over the democratic candidate, Governor Al Smith, whom she had termed "the 'wet' governor."

In taking Georgia political leaders to task she asserted, "it is a sad, a tragic, a disheartening fact that in this crucial time of Georgia and the southland's distress, Georgia has not developed a single statesman among her national representatives, no one who, like Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, is standing true to principle, willing to lose their jobs for the sake of a moral cause."

Many Officers Present.

Bainbridge today was festooned with flags and the W. C. T. U. banners and colors. The town has cooperated with Mrs. J. A. Harrison, local chairman, in entertaining the state convention. The W. C. T. U. convention of 1925 was held here.

Among delegates attending the first day's session were Mrs. Frank T. Brown, Cairo, second district president; Mrs. Mary Scott Russell, Madison; Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, Milledgeville; Mrs. M. M. Sandersville; Mrs. W. F. Mott, state evangelist from Dublin; Mrs. August Burghard, editor, Georgia W. C. T. U. Bulletin; Mrs. Walter Anthony, Savannah; Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, Iowa, vice president of National W. C. T. U.; and Mrs. W. B. Stubbs, of Savannah.

The convention will close tomorrow night. In welcoming the delegates on behalf of the churches of the city, the Rev. J. E. Ward, of the First Presbyterian church, said:

"In the name of the churches and in that religious tolerance that came only by the sweat and blood of the Protestant reformation and which is found only in Protestant churches, we welcome you, while Superintendent E. G. Elcan, for the city schools, welcomed them as "the greatest character building organization in America."

Guests at Pageant.

The delegates tonight were the guests of the local W. C. T. U. chapter at a pageant given at the court house.

Tomorrow's session will be featured with the election of officers and it is expected that Mrs. Marvin Williams, Atlanta, who served as president during the past year, will be re-elected. Following the naming of state officers the delegates will be the guests of the management of the local theater at a special showing of the picture, "Intolerance."

Plans have been formulated by the state officers to continue their fight against the nominee of the democratic party until election day. A business session will be held tomorrow morning and reports from the chapters will be submitted and committees for the year appointed after which the delegates will adjourn and be the guests of local civic organizations at a luncheon.

WEST POINT FAIR

Throngs Attend Georgia-Alabama Exposition.

West Point, Ga., October 24.—(Special).—A regatta on the Chattahoochee river will feature the Georgia-Alabama fair, now under way here. It was announced today by fair officials, who characterized this year's event as one of the greatest in the history of the exposition.

The fair, an annual event, is composed of exhibits from three Georgia

Bristol, Va., October 24.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, speaking at a political gathering here this afternoon devoted a large part of his address in answer to the charges brought against him by Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, in a speech at Richmond last night.

"No man," the bishop declared, "can come forward and fling as a taunt in my face that while he was working for prohibition that I was a paid agent of the Anti-Saloon league."

Bishop Cannon said that when the enabling act fight was on in Virginia, he led it, and added, "I would have been mighty glad if Senator Glass had been there helping me but he wasn't."

Senator Glass was described by the bishop as a "mere pawn in the hands of Olney, Haig and Brennan at Houston." He denied that he had ever received more than traveling expenses from the Anti-Saloon league.

Admitting that Senator Glass was a "dry" the bishop said that the Virginia senator had never been attacked and caricatured by the "wets" for his dry activities and that the editorial columns of Senator Glass' newspapers did not indicate that he had waged a strenuous war for the accomplishment of prohibition.

Referring to Senator Glass' characterization of him as "One-Cart Cannon," the bishop quoted the senator as having on one occasion described him as an "extreme prohibitionist," adding "he evidently thought I was dry then."

On the recent charge brought against him that he had supported a man whom he knew to be wet for the supreme court of Virginia, Bishop Cannon said that he had "supported Judge Sims, whom he knew to be wet, against a dry candidate," because he thought Judge Sims to be the better qualified for the office.

Bishop Cannon charged that Governor Smith was guilty of "a cheap Tammany trick" in sending his telegram to the Houston convention. "Tammany has no principles," he said. "Organized and protected vice in New York supports Tammany and whether Tammany controls Smith or Smith controls Tammany, I care not."

CURTIS AGAIN DWELLS ON PROSPERITY ISSUE

Rochester, N. Y., October 24.—(AP)—In his final eastern appearance, Senator Charles Curtis, the republican vice presidential nominee, tonight called for the continuance of republican rule for the maintenance of "prosperity."

The senator again stressed the tariff issue, telling the audience of this industrial city that the democrats "cannot be trusted to afford proper tariff protection for American products in view of their 50 years' assault against the tariff." He read a speech by Governor Smith in 1922 in which he said the governor termed the tariff a "cold-blooded and deliberate holdup of the American people."

Rochester republicans indulged in a long automobile parade on the arrival of the vice presidential nominee here this noon. A band led the march through the downtown section and the lengthy line of cars kept up an incessant noise with their horns and sirens.

This is the third upper New York city visited by Senator Curtis this week and he expressed gratification to the leaders over the enthusiasm which he said he had found on behalf of the party in Governor Smith's state. After a luncheon with republican leaders he held an informal reception this afternoon at the Hotel Seneca.

Late tonight, the senator left in his private car for Ohio where he will campaign for two days. He ends the week with a noon meeting at Cleveland and a night rally at Detroit.

and three Alabama counties adjacent to the river and is featured by agricultural and domestic displays. Thousands of citizens from counties in both states are attending the exposition and it is expected that additional throngs will gather for the boat races.

Frigidaire breaks all sales records

With more than fifty kinds and types of electric refrigerators on the market, it is a significant fact that there are now more Frigidaires in use than all other makes combined.

There are definite reasons for Frigidaire's predominant leadership.

There are reasons why Frigidaire sales today are greater than in any similar period in the history of the business.

There are reasons why production of the past sixty days is more than double that of a year ago—and yet thousands of orders remain unfilled.

The choice of rulers throughout the world

The preference for this one make of electric refrigerator is world wide. Frigidaire is serving in the homes of Lloyd George of England, The President of France, the Premier of Italy, the King of Spain, the King of Egypt, the Amir of Afghanistan, the President of Switzerland, and others.

Leviathan is Frigidaire-equipped

Experienced engineers chose Frigidaire for the equipment of the Leviathan, flagship of the United States Lines. It supplies the refrigeration for some of the world's most modern trains in England and America.

Choice of apartment owners everywhere

From coast to coast Frigidaire is the standard equipment for apartment houses. Among the thousands of buildings equipped, the following are typical: Tudor City, the great apartment development of New York City, has 843 Frigidaires. The Lee Plaza of Detroit has 196 Frigidaires. The Schenley Apartments of Pittsburgh have 231 Frigidaires. The Seneca of Chicago has 185 Frigidaires and the Marshall Field Garden Apartment Homes have just ordered 628 Frigidaires.

Wherever dependability, economy, quiet operation and long life are the requirements, the choice is Frigidaire.

Frigidaire for important hospital service

Hospitals throughout the world have selected Frigidaire equipment, including Walter Reid at Washington, Johns Hopkins at Baltimore, Providence Hospital at Detroit, Battle Creek Sanitarium, and the leading hospitals in almost every city. Frigidaire provides the electric refrigeration for hotels, for club houses, for Y. M. C. A's, for Y. W. C. A's, and institutions where careful analysis precedes choice.

Saving one manufacturer $40,000 a year

Frigidaire is the equipment chosen by large manufacturing plants such as the Bethlehem Steel Company, the Baldwin Locomotive Works, the Pennsylvania Railroad, the H. J.

Heinz Company, Standard Oil; and a typical example is the Carnegie Steel Company, where 340 Frigidaire-equipped water coolers are effecting a saving estimated at over $40,000 a year.

What happened at Houston

At the Democratic Convention in Houston, where the heat was excessive, ninety per cent of the water coolers in the great Convention Hall were Frigidaires, and everyone of them served without interruption throughout the convention.

Chain stores are Frigidaire-equipped

Frigidaires are used by the great chain store systems, including A. & P., Kresge, Lyons Incorporated, of England, Independent Grocers' Alliance, Piggly Wiggly, and seventy-five others.

Frigidaire is the overwhelming choice of ice cream manufacturers, where the savings effected are enormous.

Frigidaire is the choice of thousands of the most modern dairy farms in the United States, and ninety per cent of the leading soda fountain manufacturers of America have chosen this one make of electric refrigeration because of its dependability and economy.

New Frigidaire is incredibly quiet

The announcement of the New Frigidaire has met with a universal response. Its beauty, its power, its ease of installation, its incredibly quiet operation, its economy, and its low price have given added impetus to an already overwhelming public preference.

Careful analysis, engineering tests, actual experience have led the vast majority of careful buyers to choose Frigidaire.

Proven dependability and low cost

If you are considering the purchase of an electric refrigerator from which you are entitled to expect long years of service, economy in the use of current, absolute dependability, Frigidaire, with its limitless resources, its vast experience and the economies it effects through mass production, offers value that has no equal.

SMITH ROASTS HOOVER IN BOSTON SPEECH

socialistic," he added, "what do you say we call the roll and see who will come under such a classification." When laughter and applause, "And died down," the speaker introduced "Socialist No. 1," who he said was the late Theodore Roosevelt. "We have another distinguished socialist," the speaker said, "Charles E. Hughes," he continued. "If I am a socialist, he is a socialist." Again the audience cheered, laughed and applauded. "I shall tell you frankly," he added, "that in a great many of my written speeches and spoken speeches on this question of waterpower development, I used the identical language of Governor Hughes."

Smith then said: "Let us proceed with the roll call" and he named former Governor Miller, of New York, Owen D. Young and others as those who he said would come within the "socialistic" classification set up by Hoover.

Vice President Included. On the question of farm relief, the governor argued that the republican candidates for the office of vice president would include Vice President Dawes, while, he said, Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, City, Hoover's running mate, was "only 50 per cent socialist." He had first voted for the McNary-Haugen farm bill and then voted to sustain President Coolidge's veto.

There was more applause and laughter and the governor had his audience cheering again when he insisted Hoover's definition also would include Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois.

one of the farm group leaders. Several times the governor had to appeal to his audience to quiet down so as not to lose time over a 30-station radio hookup.

"Now if you voters in the gallery will subside" was one of his appeals for silence. Again he asked that the cheering be put off until the end. "It won't cost anything then," he said.

Crowd Vicious. Near the end of his address, however, the crowd got out of control and for a time refused to be silenced. The governor had started on a statement as to what the country "really and actually" needs, but he got no farther, for somebody back in the crowd interrupted with a shout: "Al Smith!"

The governor was introduced by Mrs. Frances Wilson Sayre, daughter of Woodrow Wilson, who in a brief speech said his father had uttered what she described as "these prophetic words."

"I hope and believe that you will not be disappointed in him. He is a man who has stood apart in a great many ways. I believe he feels in an unusual degree the impulses and compulsion of the nation and the world's affairs."

She then added that Governor Smith's record "amply shows that my father's trust in him was more than justified."

"We shall use words to convey our meaning, not to hide it," said Governor Smith in beginning his address. On August 11 of this year in the state of California the republican candidate, in his speech of acceptance, made use of the words that I have just spoken and had out a high hope for the people of the United States that in the course of the campaign plain speaking would give the American people an opportunity to render their verdict on the sixth of November in republican campaigning.

"Let us take up some of the subjects before the election and see how the republican candidate has used words to convey his meaning," the governor continued.

"Take, first, the question of the development of our great natural waterpower resources."

"Let me first state the question at issue. Throughout the length and breadth of this country today there are great possible waterpower developments. The democratic platform refers to them as the last line of public resources not yet in the hands of private companies for private gain and private profit."

"The question is: How are they to be developed? By the government itself, retaining ownership and control for the purpose of putting the government in a position by contractual agreements to guarantee fair rates of equitable distribution to the users of electrical energy, developed as a result of their ownership of these resources? Or are they to be alienated and fall into the hands of private water power companies eagerly seeking an opportunity to use the natural resources of the country, the property of all the people, for their own profit? Early in the campaign I exposed the operations of the power lobby and their attempts for many years to discourage public development and ownership. We are now dealing with no new question, but with one that has been before the country for quite some time."

"There can be no mistake about the democratic position or about my own attitude," said the governor.

"I am endeavoring to apply to the nation the principles that I have held in the state of New York, where probably the largest and the greatest of these waterpowers now reside. Only two years ago I successfully defeated the aspirations of the power trust by calling public attention to the fact that the republican controlled waterpower commission of New York state was prepared to turn over the potential waterpower possibilities of the St. Lawrence river to a subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of America."

"Properly developed, there is enough publicly-owned water power in the state of New York to light New England, and it is running to waste to-day while we are gathered in this hall, simply because it has been impossible up to date to get any agreement as to the manner and method of dealing with it. The private companies have been successful in blocking all attempts at public development."

"All this is known to Mr. Hoover."

as it is to the republican leaders of the country generally.

"There can only be two sides to the question: Either the people are to retain these waterpower sites under public ownership and public control, or they are to lease them to private companies for private profit."

"It should be, in the ordinary course of events, a perfectly easy thing for any public man to declare without equivocation just where he stands on the fundamental principle involved."

"Take the very speech of acceptance in which appears the text of my speech tonight. In so far as it deals with water power, this is what he said:

"'Nearly all of our greater drainage basins of the country are still in the hands of the American people and are in a condition of cheapened transportation, irrigation, reclamation, domestic water supply, hydro-electric power, and freighting, the necessities of flood control. But this development of our water requires more definite national policies in the systematic coordination of these different works upon each drainage area.'"

Words Hide Meaning. "What does all this mean? I am unable to make anything out of it and if the American people can't, where would you find in any political campaign of the past a better example of the use of words to hide rather than to convey a meaning?"

"Following his speech of acceptance, the republican candidate was confronted with a nation-wide demand that he use words to convey his meaning and not to hide it. As a result, on the 18th of August, one week after his speech of acceptance, he spoke at Los Angeles. I carefully read the speech and all that he said about the fundamental principle of control of the water power of the country was in favor of the highest dam at Boulder canyon on the Colorado river, that the engineers would recommend."

"This has to do with construction. The fundamental principle he carefully avoided."

"He next touched upon water power in the state of Tennessee. There has been an effort to give that control to the aluminum trust. If so, why not use words to convey his meaning? He never even mentioned the words 'Muscle Shoals.'"

"The following is an extract from his speech:

"'Violations of public interest by individuals or corporations should be followed by the condemnation and punishment they deserve, but this should not induce us to abandon progressive principles and substitute in their place deadly and destructive doctrines.'"

"What did he mean by 'deadly and destructive doctrines'? Did that mean public ownership and public control, but they do not use words to convey the meaning? And what did he mean in his mind when he tried to hide it?"

"Let me read further from the speech:

"'There are local instances where the government must enter the field as a by-product of some great major purpose, such as improvement in navigation, flood control, scientific research, or the like, but they do not use words to convey the general policy to which we should adhere.'"

"What is the general policy to which we should adhere? What is the candidate's policy with regard to the development of water power?"

"The candidate's statement at Ellerbe station on his return from New York, meaning that a chain of newspapers throughout the United States supporting his candidacy had one of the newspaper editors on the subject of Muscle Shoals."

"You may say that means Muscle Shoals."

Statement Complicated. "Even after the newspaper interview, upon his return to Washington, he made a third statement with relation to Muscle Shoals. This last and final statement was more complicated than the first."

"I am not simple-minded on this subject. I knew all along exactly where the republican candidate stood. What I have been trying to do is to drag him into the open."

"From August 11 until October 22, Mr. Hoover succeeded in using words to hide his meaning, but on last Monday night the cat got out of the bag and at Madison Square Garden in New York city, he told the progressive members of his own party, as well as the democrats of the country that their proposals would 'cause us to come to state socialism.'"

All are Socialists. "If what he says in his Madison Square Garden speech is true then all the members of congress, republican and democrat who voted for the Muscle Shoals bill, voted by President Coolidge, are socialists."

"Where did I hear this before? Where did this expression of 'state socialism' originate as applied to state ownership and development of water power? It is the stock argument of the republican party and the republican power plans by the power lobby in the state of New York. It was the very same argument made by the republican candidate for the office of governor of New York who, until the day he was selected to be the leader of his party in the state, was the head of the power lobby. Power company and who, as speaker of the assembly, stood against every proposal for state development and state ownership."

"I can almost picture the republican candidate saying to Chairman Macchold: 'What argument did you use against Smith's water power plan?' 'Refer to it as state socialism; that is best calculated to scare business men, large and small.'"

"I am sure, however, that Chairman Macchold did not explain to the candidate that there are some distinguished men, some of them members of his own party, who are against New York, who, so far as the power subject is concerned, lined themselves up with what he is pleased to call a socialist doctrine. Let us see who they are."

Roosevelt's Position. "Former President Theodore Roosevelt, speaking about the power possibilities on the St. Lawrence river, said the following:

"'You have in this section a most valuable asset in your natural water power. You have elected too many men in the past who have taken this power to the nation. Coal and oil barons cannot compare to water power barons. Do not let them get a monopoly on what belongs to the state. There has been a persistent effort to give private corporations control of the water power in this country. There has been an effort to give that control to the aluminum trust. If so, why not use words to convey his meaning? He never even mentioned the words 'Muscle Shoals.'"

It is the stock argument of the republican party and the republican power plans by the power lobby in the state of New York. It was the very same argument made by the republican candidate for the office of governor of New York who, until the day he was selected to be the leader of his party in the state, was the head of the power lobby. Power company and who, as speaker of the assembly, stood against every proposal for state development and state ownership."

"I can almost picture the republican candidate saying to Chairman Macchold: 'What argument did you use against Smith's water power plan?' 'Refer to it as state socialism; that is best calculated to scare business men, large and small.'"

"I am sure, however, that Chairman Macchold did not explain to the candidate that there are some distinguished men, some of them members of his own party, who are against New York, who, so far as the power subject is concerned, lined themselves up with what he is pleased to call a socialist doctrine. Let us see who they are."

Roosevelt's Position. "Former President Theodore Roosevelt, speaking about the power possibilities on the St. Lawrence river, said the following:

"'You have in this section a most valuable asset in your natural water power. You have elected too many men in the past who have taken this power to the nation. Coal and oil barons cannot compare to water power barons. Do not let them get a monopoly on what belongs to the state. There has been a persistent effort to give private corporations control of the water power in this country. There has been an effort to give that control to the aluminum trust. If so, why not use words to convey his meaning? He never even mentioned the words 'Muscle Shoals.'"

"The following is an extract from his speech:

"'Violations of public interest by individuals or corporations should be followed by the condemnation and punishment they deserve, but this should not induce us to abandon progressive principles and substitute in their place deadly and destructive doctrines.'"

"What did he mean by 'deadly and destructive doctrines'? Did that mean public ownership and public control, but they do not use words to convey the meaning? And what did he mean in his mind when he tried to hide it?"

"Let me read further from the speech:

"'There are local instances where the government must enter the field as a by-product of some great major purpose, such as improvement in navigation, flood control, scientific research, or the like, but they do not use words to convey the general policy to which we should adhere.'"

"What is the general policy to which we should adhere? What is the candidate's policy with regard to the development of water power?"

"The candidate's statement at Ellerbe station on his return from New York, meaning that a chain of newspapers throughout the United States supporting his candidacy had one of the newspaper editors on the subject of Muscle Shoals."

"You may say that means Muscle Shoals."

Statement Complicated. "Even after the newspaper interview, upon his return to Washington, he made a third statement with relation to Muscle Shoals. This last and final statement was more complicated than the first."

"I am not simple-minded on this subject. I knew all along exactly where the republican candidate stood. What I have been trying to do is to drag him into the open."

"From August 11 until October 22, Mr. Hoover succeeded in using words to hide his meaning, but on last Monday night the cat got out of the bag and at Madison Square Garden in New York city, he told the progressive members of his own party, as well as the democrats of the country that their proposals would 'cause us to come to state socialism.'"

All are Socialists. "If what he says in his Madison Square Garden speech is true then all the members of congress, republican and democrat who voted for the Muscle Shoals bill, voted by President Coolidge, are socialists."

"Where did I hear this before? Where did this expression of 'state socialism' originate as applied to state ownership and development of water power? It is the stock argument of the republican party and the republican power plans by the power lobby in the state of New York. It was the very same argument made by the republican candidate for the office of governor of New York who, until the day he was selected to be the leader of his party in the state, was the head of the power lobby. ATLANTA'S BUSINESS VOLUME SHOWS GAIN

Increase of $2 Per Cent Over August Is Registered.

Atlanta's volume of business, as measured by check transactions, still remains well above the average for 1928-29, with Atlanta the most prosperous city, relatively, in the state. The Standard Statistics company, of New York, one of the world's largest statistical organizations, reports the volume here as 22 per cent above the average, a decrease of 5.4 per cent from September, 1927, but an increase of 5.2 per cent over August, 1928.

September volume of business for Georgia is reported as 7 per cent above average, a decrease of 16.4 per cent from September of last year.

Conditions in the south Atlantic states are still uncertain as to improvement. The peach crop in Georgia was nearly twice as large as last year, but the cotton crop has been damaged by storms, it was reported. The cotton mills and shoe factories are operating at low levels, but improvement has been noted in the wearing apparel trades and the fertilizer industry will be active this winter, it continued.

DECATUR CHAMBER DRIVE IS DECLARED TO BE BIG SUCCESS

Decatur, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—The intensive drive for new members in the Decatur chamber of commerce was brought to a close Tuesday night at a final meeting held by the workers at Hotel Chandler. The campaign was termed by the officials of the organization and the leaders in the drive as an outstanding success.

Augustine Sams, general chairman, announced that over 100 new members had been added to the chamber during the campaign and that he was confident that if the permanent membership committee would follow up the work of this drive that the goal of 400 members for the organization would be reached during this year.

An interesting feature of Tuesday night's program was the presentation of prizes offered by the business men and citizens of Decatur, to the teams receiving the highest number of points. The first prize offered was an Atwater Kent radio set. The team winning this prize was C. M. Sanders and J. C. Tarr, turning in a total of 35 new members, and they were by far in the lead of any other team.

Mr. Sams, after commending them for their splendid work, called upon President John Wesley Weekes to present the prize to them. In doing this Mr. Weekes paid high tribute to their civic accomplishment and the service rendered to the community.

The other teams winning prizes were: W. C. McLean and W. A. Ozmur, second with 17 members; T. C. and E. P. McGee, third with 13 members, and John Wesley Weekes and Robert Ramspeck coming fourth.

NEWSPAPER ADS AID FRIGIDAIRE SALES—BIECHLER

Business of the Frigidaire corporation has approximately doubled over the same period of last year following a widespread advertising campaign based upon its new line of household refrigerating equipment, according to E. G. Biechler, president and general manager, who attributes much of the increase to use of newspaper space.

"The newspaper of today, when used to promote quality product in one of the greatest aids that business or industry can enlist," he said. "It obtains and retains public confidence for any product that merits it."

HOMERVILLE BANK BANDITS BELIEVED CAUGHT IN FLORIDA

Three men believed to have been connected with the attempted robbery of the Clinch County bank, at Homerville, on October 17 were arrested Wednesday in Jacksonville, Fla., by Agents Ellis and Ackerman, according to a telegram received late Wednesday afternoon by J. P. Johnston, post-office inspector in charge of this district. The men held are J. P. Cook, of Berrington Springs, Mich.; B. T. Peavy, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Ellis Pickett, said to be a deputy sheriff. No details of the capture were given.

According to the reports of the attempted robbery at Homerville, four men drove up in a car carrying an acetylene torch and a large bag of tools. They handcuffed the town night watchman and seized a small boy standing nearby from whom they took a flashlight. The boy managed to escape and spread the alarm and the robbers fled.

Inspector Johnston explained that his department had been on the lookout for such a gang since the postoffice at LaGrange had been robbed twice during the past year by the use of an acetylene torch.

A WORD From the House of PHILIBOSIAN

The Philibosian Furniture offered as prizes in this contest is particularly representative of the Philibosian store: The best at smallest cost.

It is everybody's ambition to own the best. Also it is everybody's plan to possess the best in the most economical manner.

Like every well-laid plan—to furnish your home as you would live in it all your life—at least for very many years to come—is in the planning.

The first move is the most important. Buy good things. Pay cash—for cash makes the lowest price—and you can afford the best. This is the Philibosian logic in determining to run a furniture business at smallest cost to everybody, the slogan being, "Cash Is the Great Saver."

It tells the whole story in five words.

Cash makes a tremendous difference—in price-making.

The cash sale is the desirable sale.

The cash purchase may be spoken of in the same words—it makes a price as well as the piece desirable.

Three years of strictly cash methods of conducting a furniture business have been three years of history making. Philibosian's occupies the unique position of being the only furniture house in the south selling for cash.

Every day a convert is made—to the plan that saves.

Senator George Resumes Plea for Party Loyalty In Swainsboro Address

Emanuel County Voters
Hear Solon Contrast
Merits of Gov. Smith and Hoover.

Swainsboro, Ga., October 24.—(Special.)—Senator Walter F. George today addressed the people of Emanuel county on the issues in the present campaign for president. He was greeted by a crowded court room, many of those present being unable to obtain seats. To a large, attentive and enthusiastic audience, Senator George delivered one of the most masterful addresses in the history of the state, in which he contrasted the merits of the two candidates for president.

Conciliatory and kind in its nature, yet burning with questions that vitally affect the people of the nation, the message was received with admiration and there is no question in the minds of local observers but that the speech more closely cemented the democrats of Emanuel county and won back some who were inclined to vote against the nominee.

Denounces Corruption.
Speaking as one with authority, lacking in prejudice or emotion, but simply stating facts, Senator George plunged into the issues of the campaign with the ability of a master. He denounced republican corruption, "old lease thievery," the lack of the republican program on farm relief and "explored the injection of the race question in the campaign."

He gracefully disposed of Senator Borah, now campaigning for Secretary Hoover, by explaining his contradictions on the question of farm relief and by quoting verbatim statements from other republican senators on the floor of the senate which show, he said, that farmers expect no relief from the republican party. He urged the reconstruction and government of Muscle Shoals for the manufacture of ammonia and nitrates in time of peace for the farmers.

Senator George graphically discussed the injection of the negro question into this campaign and explained the fact that the appointment of Morton as civil service commissioner in New York was made by former Mayor Hylan, "the arch enemy of Al Smith and Tammany" and who is a friend of William Randolph Hearst.

Governor's Power.
Governor Smith "has no more to do with the municipal appointments in New York city than does Governor Hardman regulate the social conduct of local communities," he explained. His contrast of the personalities of Governor Smith and Secretary Hoover, in which he emphasized Governor Smith's frankness, his love of the people, his upholding of states' rights and his dominance of Tammany hall, was masterful to the fullest degree.

He deplored the fact that some of those who attended the democratic convention at Houston are now opposing the nominee, stating that every participant in the councils of a party should support the nominee by the terms of the democracy under which we live.

Upon the question of the religious issue in the campaign, Senator George was both humorous and serious. He said that his sympathy went out to a few preachers who assumed the responsibility of discussing this question from the pulpit, but he had respect for their honesty as well.

Deplored Religious Bias.
"It would be sad to know," he said, "that future generations would consider the fact of a man's religion when he offered himself for public office, a right to fill which is given him under our constitution, without religious question on qualification."

He did, however, express the belief that one who offers for election

M. E. CONFERENCE HITS ANTI-DRY CANDIDATES

Resolution Urges Support of Nominees Who Favor Enforcement.

Charlotte, N. C., October 24.—(AP) Unalterable opposition to the candidates of any aspirant to political office who declines to support the prohibition laws, was expressed in a report adopted today by the western Methodist Episcopal church, south, in the opening session of its six-day conference.

The action was followed immediately by a debate that continued an hour and brought the declaration from Bishop Edwin J. Moulton, presiding, that "the politicians have only themselves to thank for this."

The charge was made by the bishop that local leaders in democratic affairs had endeavored to "intimidate" the clergy by publishing today paid advertisements urging the conference to avoid drawing the church into politics.

The Methodist preachers are beginning to feel very keenly about this, said the bishop. "It is recognized that neither they nor I could permit this attempted intimidation to pass unchallenged."

The text of the reports final paragraph reads:
"We urge the support of those candidates and only those who favor a vigorous, fearless and honest enforcement of these (prohibition) laws as now written in our statute books. We believe they are ample in scope and facilities; that they are enforceable and are enforced; wherever the officers, whose duty it is to see that they are enforced, are faithful to their trust and receive full support of public sentiment and we do not propose to be moved from the position of this, our Holy Methodistism."

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Wednesday instructed a committee from the safety council to estimate the need for a survey and confer with him concerning it at a later date.

Those appearing before the mayor were C. A. Smith, chief of construction; George Deibert, secretary of the council; R. W. Torres, engineer of the city planning commission, and J. Houston Johnston, consulting engineer of the Georgia public service commission.

Committee members suggested that the expert be brought here to make a comprehensive survey of the situation and work out a plan for regulating vehicular traffic through the congested downtown area.

They also pointed out that a recent survey made at Knoxville has improved conditions in that city to a marked degree.

WAR RISK APPEAL OF GEORGIA WIDOW DENIED BY COURT

New Orleans, October 24.—(AP)—The appeal of Mrs. Lillie W. Mack, instituted in federal court in Savannah, Ga., for recovery of war risk insurance on the life of her husband, killed during the war, was denied today by Judge R. W. Walker, presiding member of the fifth United States circuit court of appeals.

"No constitutional provision can be given the effect of subjecting the government to a contract of liability which it does not consent to incur," Judge Walker said in denying the woman's appeal.

The jurist based his decision on the provision in the war risk insurance act that automatically terminates the contract of the widow of the insured soldier when "notorious misconduct" is shown.

Insurance payments were made to Mrs. Mack following the death of her husband, but were stopped in November, 1923. Attorneys for Mrs. Mack argued the judge's contention that the politicians have only themselves to thank for this.

The charge was made by the bishop that local leaders in democratic affairs had endeavored to "intimidate" the clergy by publishing today paid advertisements urging the conference to avoid drawing the church into politics.

The Methodist preachers are beginning to feel very keenly about this, said the bishop. "It is recognized that neither they nor I could permit this attempted intimidation to pass unchallenged."

The text of the reports final paragraph reads:
"We urge the support of those candidates and only those who favor a vigorous, fearless and honest enforcement of these (prohibition) laws as now written in our statute books. We believe they are ample in scope and facilities; that they are enforceable and are enforced; wherever the officers, whose duty it is to see that they are enforced, are faithful to their trust and receive full support of public sentiment and we do not propose to be moved from the position of this, our Holy Methodistism."

2 BADLY INJURED,
1 SLIGHTLY HURT
IN TRUCK ACCIDENT

Two men were seriously injured and a third slightly hurt late Wednesday afternoon when a light delivery truck in which they were riding turned over at Lee street and Donnelly avenue.

Charles Biggers, of a Piedmont avenue address, suffered a fracture of the right leg and was admitted to Grady hospital along with Claude Chaney, of 236 East Hunter street, who suffered a badly lacerated left hand and face; that they are enforceable and are enforced; wherever the officers, whose duty it is to see that they are enforced, are faithful to their trust and receive full support of public sentiment and we do not propose to be moved from the position of this, our Holy Methodistism."

The accident was investigated by Police Lieutenants Horshy and Carroll, who were told that the car turned over as it was being turned into Donnelly avenue from Lee street while traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

The injured men were carried to Grady hospital in an ambulance of Harry G. Poole & Co.

COUPLE ARE ARRESTED ON ANTI-CATHOLIC TOUR

Preacher and Woman Nabbed in Savannah by Police.

Savannah, Ga., October 24.—(AP) Mrs. Ed C. Alumbaugh, who styles herself secretary of the American Rangers, was at liberty under $400 bond tonight, pending trial in police court tomorrow with W. F. Larowe, a minister, who says he is the woman's secretary, on charges of distributing handbills likely to produce disorder and violating two other city ordinances.

While Larowe still was held in jail tonight, unable to make bond, Mrs. Alumbaugh spoke to a small crowd at the municipal auditorium. Her entire talk was devoted to anti-Roman Catholicism.

Mrs. Alumbaugh and Larowe were arrested by police today charged with using an automobile for advertising without a license, distributing handbills on the streets without a license and distributing matter likely to produce disorder.

Police who searched their automobile said they found handbills in it containing a purported oath of the Knights of Columbus captioned "To Murder Protestants and Destroy American Government." On the bill police said were printed enunciations of a "challenge" to the American people.

Under a Macon, Ga., date line to the supreme council, Knights of Columbus, and a statement to the American people asking for contributions to the Rangers also was found.

Larowe formerly was an officer of the Volunteers of America here, but later was transferred to Jacksonville, Florida.

Two Girls Live on Hot Water and Rice

Because of stomach trouble, Miss A. H. and sister lived on hot water and rice. But since taking Adlerika, they say, they can eat anything and feel fine.

"A simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLED action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels (most medicines act on lower bowels only) and removes foul matter that poisoned the system for months. It clears GAS and sourness from the stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism."

Dr. H. L. Schub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

Dr. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will surprise you, the great amount of poisons Adlerika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Send for FREE checkbook. ADLERIKA, Dept. Warm Sunshine To Dispel Cold Weather Today

Atlanta's belated cold snap will be short-lived, according to C. F. von Herrmann, head of the local United States weather bureau, who is predicting fair and warmer weather for tomorrow.

The thermometer touched 43 early Wednesday for the first time this fall and while this is a low record for this month, it is nowhere near the record of 28 degrees established the same day in 1917.

The high point for Wednesday was 64, reached about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the maximum for today is expected to be a few points above this figure, Mr. von Herrmann said.

Hollemann-DeVaughn Wedding Is Beautiful Home Ceremony

Of unusual beauty was the marriage last evening of Miss Elizabeth Hollemann, only daughter of Joseph Travis Hollemann, to James Elijah DeVaughn, of Montezuma, which took place at the home of the bride on Springdale road. The home was elaborately garlanded in small, foliage plants, white roses, dahlias and Easter lilies. Graceful candle-cakes placed at intervals and joined by handsome white satin ribbons formed the aisle from the foot of the stairway to the altar. The altar was set with a white cloth and a white shawl. The bride wore a gown of green satin, the lovely arm bouquet of yellow Pernet roses tied with yellow satin ribbon completed a costume of sheer beauty.

Misses Babes and Betty Zuker, ribbon bearers, were daintily costumed in cream-colored chiffon frocks.

Radiant Bride.
The lovely titian haired bride descended the stair with her father, Joseph Travis Hollemann, who gave her in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his brother, Carl DeVaughn, Jr., who acted as best man. Her bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with a close fitting waist finished by a tight band at the hips. The bride's veil was of white tulle, forming a train. Her slipper was of white satin brocade with silver heels. The bride's hair was styled in a graceful bow which blended into the flared skirt of the cape-shaped gown. It was edged in princess lace and extended below the hem of the gown, forming a train. Her slipper was of white satin brocade with silver heels. The bride's hair was styled in a graceful bow which blended into the flared skirt of the cape-shaped gown. It was edged in princess lace and extended below the hem of the gown, forming a train.

Following the marriage ceremony an informal reception was held, the receiving line being formed by the bride and groom, Joseph Travis Hollemann, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeVaughn, parents of the groom. Mrs. DeVaughn modeled along straight lines. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Horace Hollemann assisted in entertaining and wore her wedding gown of white satin and duchess lace. Mrs. George M. Niles, of Montezuma, an aunt of the bride, was groomed in black velvet and Mrs. T. J. Dykes, also of Montezuma, a cousin of the bride, wore black lace. Their flower girls were pink roses.

Misses Lorene Harper and Ruth Jolly kept the bride's book, and Miss Isabel Breitenbush and Anne Lane Newel served punch.

The table in the dining room was covered with a Venetian lace cloth and graced in the center with a silver chalice of white roses. Silver candlesticks held white tapers and the appointments were in green and white.

Wedding Trip.
Mr. and Mrs. DeVaughn left on their wedding journey to points of interest in the east. Mrs. DeVaughn's traveling costume was an ensemble of tan and brown wool crepe. With this she wore a light fitting brown felt hat, and a light fitting brown coat. Her shoes were of black velvet and her bag of corresponding shade. After their return from their wedding trip they will make their home with the groom's parents in Montezuma.

Out-of-Town Guests.
The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeVaughn, Nathan DeVaughn, Carl DeVaughn, Jr., and Mrs. John B. Guerry, Mrs. T. J. Dykes, Mr. and Mrs. Coley Hicks and Mrs. Oscar McKenzie, all of Montezuma. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Huff were here from Walden, Ga., and Edilson Gilmore from Macon.

Now You Can Reduce 2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night

Lose Weight Where You Most Want To
Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effect on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate
Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely a refreshing Fayro bath in the privacy of your own home.

Try Fayro at Our Risk
The price of Fayro is $1.00 a package. Inside each package you get an interesting booklet, "Health and Open Pores."

Eat what you please
Wear what you please
Do what you please
Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes. Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twenty-two hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well-groomed men. Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You
Faintest analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts?

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh you and help your body throw off worn-out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

HERE'S PROOF
Read what Fayro Baths have done for others.

"Three Fayro baths reduced my weight 11 pounds in 8 days. I feel better than I have felt for years."

"I weigh 16 pounds less than I did when I started. Fayro is wonderful."

"My double chin vanished in the magic of Fayro baths."

"My hips were always too prominent until I commenced Fayro baths. I have lost 12 pounds."

"Thank you for Fayro. I lost 15 pounds in three weeks; feel better and certainly look better."

"Since childhood my thick thighs have always been a source of embarrassment. Fayro baths have reduced them so beautifully. Thank you very much."

Four Well-Known Women Slated for U. D. C. Election

Mrs. Anderson, Quinby, Craig and Caldwell To Be Honored

BY LAMAR SPARKS.
Election of four officers, recording secretary, treasurer, registrar and historian will feature the program of the third day of the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Georgia division, U. D. C., in conjunction here, with headquarters at the Georgian Terrace hotel. It is rumored that Mrs. Kirby Smith Anderson, of Madison, Ga., who was appointed by Mrs. W. Trox Bankston, president of the Georgia division, to fill the unexpired term of the late Miss Mildred Lewis Rutherford, life historian of the division, will be elected to that office. Mrs. L. D. F. Quinby, president of the Fulton chapter, Mrs. Harry Craig, of Augusta, recording secretary, and Mrs. A. F. Caldwell, of Monroe, registrar.

Chancellor Charles Snelling, of the University of Georgia, delivered the principal address at the Wednesday evening session of the division which was held at St. Mark's Methodist church. Stressing the need of a modern university period, he pointed out that those of the north in the work of furthering human knowledge, Chancellor Snelling pointed out the advantage to Georgia in the University of Georgia, which has been an institution for research work at this period of enormous industrial development. He stated that he had recently received from Mrs. Henry L. Richmond, formerly of Savannah, a check for $25,000 to establish a research fellowship in chemistry at the University of Georgia. The proposed university would be erected at Athens, and supported largely through state appropriations. In the course of his speech Chancellor Snelling contrasted the educational advantages with those of the past generations, giving present statistics relative to education in Georgia.

The accrediting system for high schools began in Georgia in 1908. As late as 1918 there were only 167 four-year accredited high schools in the state. In 1927 there were 760. During the same period the number of teachers increased from 867 to 2,413 while the enrollment of students increased from 23,000 to 53,941. Today every county in Georgia except five has one or more accredited high schools. The statistics of the United States bureau of education shows that in Georgia more than 40 per cent of high school graduates are going to college while the percent for the nation is 32. In only 11 states is there a higher percentage of high school graduates going to college.

The Foe of Fat Its 21-year record

For 21 years Marmola prescription tablets have held high place as a leading foe of fat. Year by year the use has grown as people have seen the results. Millions of boxes have been taken.

In those 21 years excess fat has been disappearing fast. One can see that in every circle. Not because of Marmola alone, for physicians employ like method. But Marmola has been a leading factor in this change.

The method is based on scientific research. A few years ago a great cause of excess fat was traced to a deficient gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. It was found by experiments on animals that the fat disappeared when this gland was corrected. New health and new vigor appeared. That discovery has greatly changed the treatment of obesity. It forms the basis of Marmola.

Users of Marmola are not required to starve, but moderation helps. The whole aim is to correct the cause. One simply takes four tablets daily by light meals, down to normal. Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the reasons for results. You will know exactly why you lose weight and why you gain vitality.

Excess fat is a serious blemish to beauty, health and vigor. It denotes an abnormal condition. If you suffer from it, try this method. Do it because it has done so much for people all about you. Do it because the method is right, pleasant and scientific. Start now, and in two or three weeks watch the results that come.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will order from his jobber.

MARMOLA
Prescription Tablets, The Pleasant Way to Reduce

Home-Made, but Ends Bad Cough In a Hurry

To and a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw the trouble out.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Put this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strong strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and soothes away the inflammation. At the same time it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in obstinate bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles. Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Four New Clubs Join Garden Club Of Georgia

Four new clubs, including the garden division of West End Civic club, Valdosta Garden club, Monroe Floral club and Blue Ridge Garden club, were admitted to membership of the Garden Club of Georgia at the executive board's first meeting held yesterday with the president of the state organization, Mrs. Pinkey Calhoun, at her home on Andrew's drive. These clubs met the constitutional requirements of the state organization, which states that a club must be in existence for one year and have a minimum of 15 members. The admission of these four clubs makes a total of 34 clubs composing the Garden Club of Georgia, organized in Atlanta last June.

Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, honorary president, and president of Peachtree Garden club, made a motion, which carried, that members work towards the preservation of dogwood, holly, mistletoe and Xmas greens, and use living trees during the holiday season. Mrs. Malcolma Fleming, conservation chairman, pleaded for the conservation of woodland plants and shrubs. Officers of the Garden Club of Georgia are: Mrs. Pinkey Calhoun, president; Atlanta: R. L. Cooney, first vice president; Savannah: C. T. Smith, second vice president; Concord: E. K. Lumpkin, third vice president; Athens: Miss Mary Lou Phinley, recording secretary; Augusta: George Street, corresponding secretary; Atlanta: Randolph Jacques, treasurer.

State chairmen include Mrs. Malcolma Fleming, conservation, Atlanta; Mrs. J. B. Capps, billboards, Savannah; Mrs. Fritz Jones, publicity, Atlanta; Mrs. Jesse Draper, garden slides, Atlanta; Mrs. James Hull, beautification of roadsides, Augusta; Mrs. Oscar Palmer, flower show, College Park; Mrs. W. D. Hooper, admissions, Athens; Miss Anne Clair Bone.

The historical importance of placing the statue of Alexander H. Stephens in the Hall of Fame in Washington, the gift having been made possible by Mrs. J. M. High through the Atlanta chapter, and the significance of the unveiling of the figure of General Robert E. Lee on Stone Mountain April 9, were emphasized. The Georgia-Alabama marker on the Jefferson highway at West Point, donated by Mrs. Frank Mason, through the Atlanta chapter, was unveiled at West Point May 3. It was announced that Georgia's pledge for $25 was sent to help the Father Ryan memorial and that all state pledges made at Charleston have been met. Report was made of the unveiling of the E. E. Sanson marker erected on the Newton and Walton county line on the Jefferson Davis highway near Social Circle, by the Covington and Social Circle chapters.

The historical division of the report showed that more than 8,000 pages of history have been written and 10,000 pamphlets published and distributed; 376 school pupils have been addressed by U. D. C. members, and nearly 400 prizes given for historical work; approximately 200 war-time reminiscences have been collected and 200 graves of Confederate soldiers marked. Hundreds of histories have been reviewed, relics collected, and Confederate portraits placed in schools; 3,000 books have been placed in schools and libraries, and many rare old books of Confederate truths have been collected and placed in colleges. Eighty subscriptions to the Confederate Veteran have been secured and 60 copies of the Women of the South in War Times have been sold. The Georgia division is assisting 41 girls to attend school, and individual chapters are aiding 127 students. The Helen Plane and the world war loan funds have been enlarged by gifts of almost $6,000 each, it was announced. Efforts on behalf of the Georgia State teachers' college, the Alexander Stephens Memorial institute, at Crawfordsville, were shown. Announcement was made that a check for $25 from a prominent Georgian has been received with the request that the Georgia U. D. C. keep Liberty Hall, the Stephens home at Crawfordsville, and make of it the Mt. Vernon of Georgia. A large and improved school has been made possible by the merger of the Rabun Gap and Nacoochee schools, it was said.

Appeal Made.
An appeal was made to find a place where needy Confederate women may be cared for. Mrs. Bankston has helped to organize new chapters at Lithonia and at Ringgold, with 10 and 24 members, respectively. It was announced that the Tennille chapter has been revived. Mrs. Bankston, state president, assisted in the organization of the Vester-Thompson Children of the Confederacy chapter in Cornington.

Thursday's Session.
The Thursday morning session convenes at 9 o'clock at St. Mark's Methodist church. The report of the resolutions committee will feature this session. Committee reports will be heard at this time. The afternoon session convenes at 3 o'clock at the church.

Mrs. W. Trox Bankston, president of the Georgia division, and Mrs. Izabel Bashinski, second vice president, of Dublin, presiding. Officers will be elected at this time. Further reports and new business will conclude the program.

Thursday evening a historical program will be held at 8 o'clock at the church. A pageant presenting members of the division and the country of '90's will be a feature of the evening.

Fort Benning Poloists Play Double-Header Here Today

WHILE THE GOLDEN TORNADO is carrying the Gold and White to foreign fields Saturday the Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe will meet Maryville college at Spillers field and it is quite likely that the fans who do not go either to Chapel Hill or to Athens for the Georgia Tulane scrap will have a good afternoon of football right at home.

The Stormy Petrels have been beset by ill luck this season and have not done as well as they might have with the material at hand but now reports from Hermance field indicate that the gap at center left by the ruling out of Captain Hutson is being filled and things are looking better generally.

What kind of a team Maryville will bring here is problematical but we are informed by several alumni of the institution that the "team" will be good enough to beat the Petrels. That statement is quoted because we are forced to disagree with the "alumni" who made the statement. The Petrels are faced with the necessity of taking the measure of Maryville or admit that the season is rapidly assuming the proportions of a failure.

Very little is known of the Tennessee school as to its strength. They are not publicly boasting about their strength nor are they admitting defeat. As a matter of fact it seems that they are "lying low" and waiting for the game to speak for itself. The University of Tennessee defeated Maryville easily but Tennessee has a great squad this year and defeat at their hands does not necessarily mean that the loser is weak.

Regardless of the outcome the customers who attend the game Saturday are virtually certain to see considerable action. Coach Harry Robertson believes in action and his teams usually give it. He is a great coach and given sufficient material will always produce a winning team.

THIS GAME SATURDAY in Athens has the distinct appearance from this distance of being something to write home about. The wagering gentry are handling the affair with the same canny touch they might employ if the game were a baked potato very fresh from the oven.

Now and again you can find the brave gentleman who will give Tulane and a few points but mostly they want even money and are getting very little on either side. Having seen Tulane in action but once this season and Georgia the same number of times we are not exactly qualified to give expert advice on how to place the money but even if we had seen both teams in all their games there would still be doubt.

On past records Georgia appears to have the edge and that natural advantage, added to the fact that the Bulldogs are playing on their home field, appears to make an even bet on Georgia comparatively safe. But points should be very hard to find. With the usual loyalty displayed by New Orleans rooters a few of the Crescent City gamblers are offering even money on the Greensies but they are very few. Mostly they want odds and mostly their cash is going begging.

To be very truthful about the matter, a comparison of the two teams is hard to make. Georgia is more or less of an uncertain quality just at present. The Bulldogs looked great until the Furman game. They even looked like class in their defeat at the hands of a mighty Yale team but they suffered a worse letdown after the northern invasion than was expected. If they are in condition to throw their strength into the Tulane scrap there should be no question of the outcome but they have to be further on top than they were last week. The Greensies—contrary to opinion in certain quarters—have a very formidable outfit this year. They are not easy to beat.

New Stadium To Be Built At Alabama

Work Will Begin Immediately; First Unit Will Cost From 12,000 to 15,000.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., October 24.—(AP) Construction of a concrete stadium, with a first unit seating capacity of from 12,000 to 15,000, and designed ultimately to seat 60,000 persons, will begin immediately at the University of Alabama here, Dr. James J. Doster, chairman of the university athletic council, said today. The stadium will be located approximately 500 feet from the campus on a site south of University avenue and east of Tenth street.

Dr. Doster said contracts would be awarded through Atwood and Nash, Chicago, Ill., architects, in charge of construction.

The specifications call for unit construction, with the first unit ready for occupancy by August, 1939. The title drained playing field, suited for all weather play, is to be ready for sowing with grass seed by April. When completed the stadium is to be an oval of reinforced concrete and brick.

Cost of the stadium has not been determined, Dr. Doster said, and will not be determined until all bids are tabulated. Funds for its erection were derived from proceeds from the two Tournament of Roses games played by the Crimson Tide with Pacific coast teams in 1926 and 1927.

Denny Field, the present football field, will be used for variety and frosh football practice, baseball diamond and track, with the stadium held in reserve for football games.

Announcement of the construction of the stadium followed several years of consideration of plans, culminating in a meeting of the athletic council yesterday. The council is composed of Dr. Doster, chairman; President George H. Denny, Coach Wallace Wade, Hugo, Friedman, Graduate Manager Dr. James S. Thomas, Gordon Palmer, alumni representative, and Ralph Adams, secretary.

U. OF FLORIDA PLANS NEW STEEL STADIUM
Gainesville, Fla., October 24.—(AP) Official approval by John W. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, will set in motion the work of constructing a concrete and steel stadium on the campus here, it was learned today from Captain Everett Yon, athletic director. President Tigert is out of town at present.

The stadium would be constructed in sections, under plans of the University of Florida, the first division to cost 30,000, to be ready for use next fall. When completed the building would seat 75,000 and cost half a million dollars.

The seats would be built around a natural bowl and the work would be financed by a bond issue to be sold among alumni and others. This would enable the university authorities to bring here big events from other sections of the country and foster a home-and-home schedule with other southern conference teams.

If approved Florida would be the third southern university to go into construction on a large scale, the University of Georgia and the University of North Carolina building big football stadiums.

Knute Discovers Fullback

South Bend, Ind., October 24.—(AP) Knute K. Rourke's search for a fullback is ended—at least temporarily. From a tryout of 15 men the Notre Dame coach has selected Mortensen, a substitute tackle, as the most likely candidate to give the Notre Dame eleven a scoring punch. Mortensen weighs 175 pounds.

Daviscourt Knocked Out By Browning

Rough Richard Meets Defeat in Wrestling Match Here; Police Called.

BY BEN COTHMAN.
More than a few Atlantans overlooked the opportunity Wednesday night to see a right fair wrestling match. Mr. John Daviscourt, a behemoth at the city auditorium in three rather interesting matches. There was lots of fighting. Mr. Daviscourt, one of the actors in the main affair, kicked over the traces and declared that either Bob Rubie would referee his match or there wouldn't be any match at all. He decided to have Abe Eplan referee this main go, in which Jim Browning won over the once-rough, now rather docile Daviscourt.

They had quite an argument over this referee business and put on a good show while doing it. Daviscourt even going so far as to leave the ring. He declared that Kaplan was too friendly with Browning to be refereeing a wrestling match in which the latter was participating and called for Bob Rubie, finally getting him.

Then the two giants got down to their daily work and proceeded to puff, grunt, moan and sweat for 26 minutes and 49 seconds until Browning got Daviscourt all tied up in a knot with one leg wrapped around Richard's arm and won the fall. They came back and Daviscourt began tossing Browning all over the ring with a series of flying headlocks, finally winning the fall in 14 minutes. Having thus worked things around until the cash customers were becoming slightly whoopee over nothing at all, also a very able down to swapping punches with Browning's having the more telling effect.

Police Enter Ring.
Browning proceeded to back his grappling mate up to the ropes and swing with all the abandon of a boxer punching the bag. Richard became slightly dazed and grabbed the ropes. At this point a slightly aroused officer of the law entered the ring and put him down. The time limit was the signal for Browning to secure a headlock and flop the docile Daviscourt on the floor. Carrying on to make a goal, Daviscourt remained on the floor and they lugged him off to his dressing room where he was revived in remarkably quick fashion.

Daviscourt seems to have lost most of his rough tactics since last appearing here, but the bout preceding the windup was as full of punches as a politician's pockets are of cigars. The performers were a gentleman farmer from way out west in Kansas, Mr. Allan Eustace and your own Pete Sauer. It ended in a draw following hair-raising scenes which brought about gouging of eyes, pulling of hair and ears, solar-plexus blows and anything but a fair exhibition of wrestling.

Sauer Wins Fall.
Sauer gained the first fall by lashing out his legs to Eustace's mid-section, getting him on the floor and then rolling on him until the man's shoulders were pinned to the canvas. In the next fall Eustace trotted forth with a series of front head locks and put Sauer down. The time limit ended without another fall and Rubie called it a draw, which was the only thing he could do.

The first match brought out a pair of welterweights, in which Sam Miller, of Detroit, won from Archie Holton, of Macon, when the latter quit under the strain supposedly exerted by a double toe-hold.

During the night's activities a small boy drew a ticket stub from the box used at the holder of the corresponding number was awarded a pair of Florsheim shoes. Another number was drawn and the holder of this stub received a five-dollar bill.

The crowd was rather small but seemed to enjoy itself, which probably means well for the future of Mr. Contos in Atlanta.

Horse Guards And Fort Mac Meet Invaders

Two Games Will Start at 2 O'Clock on Fort Field; Excitement Promised.

BY BEN COTHMAN.
Since this idea of playing double-headers has reached football it has kept on traveling and this afternoon we have a polo double-header at Fort Benning engaging a McPherson team and also one from the Governor's Horse Guards, starting at 2 o'clock.

If the same crisp weather prevails that has been the city's lot for the past two days, then it will be a good afternoon for the ponies to gallop. Polo isn't exactly a hot weather game, although it can be played in very hot weather provided you have a long string of ponies.

Much Excitement.
But weather or no weather the two games on the bill for this afternoon should afford the best polo Atlanta has seen for some time. There will, in all likelihood, be a number of Atlantans on hand for this afternoon's affair because the game has taken hold of late and last Sunday afternoon saw one of the largest crowds in the game's history here. Polo is a game that is really more than intricate and at the same time easy to watch and get a kick out of doing so.

When the right whorl active ponies are turned loose in an enclosure some 300 by 50 or 60 yards, action is bound to follow. And the game has it in abundance.

Benning has a well-mounted squad and a number of the Columbus players are one and two-goal men. Major Lil Lyman, an excellent horseman and No. 1 of Benning's first team—which we would suppose is called the variety—has a two-goal handicap. Also Major Smith, at No. 2, said by many to be the south's best in polo. He has played the game for a number of years and plays it well. At No. 3 Benning has Lieutenant Jacobs, one of the hardest riders in the business with a rather annoying ability—annoying to his opponents—of keeping right on the ball, no matter where it may roll, which is one of the requisites for playing No. 3. Jacobs is a one-goal man and also Captain McClure at back.

The above mentioned gentlemen will ride against the McPherson four in the first game of today's double-header. Benning and the Horse Guards, by means of diligent practice and continual skirmishes, have improved quite noticeably in the past week and will be able to make the going interesting, very, for Benning. Wing, Franke, Proctor and Tolson, the McPherson team, form a hard-to-beat bunch. They will receive two goals from Fort Benning, which means that when the game starts the score will be 2-0 in McPherson's favor.

Guards Play Next.
Following this clash, the Guardsmen gallop forth to meet Benning's second team. The Benning horses arrived Wednesday morning and also part of the Fort Benning team. They were players on the first four, however, and it isn't known exactly what members of the second squad will be here for the game.

The Horse Guards will throw in their seasoned four—Bo Gay, Ray Love, P. D. Christian and Wes Moran—the same bunch that has ridden against McPherson all summer. The team has worked out a compact, well-organized squad. Love, Christian and Moran have played together almost since the time the Guards team was organized while Gay has just recently broken into the lineup. But the men work well together and will make an interesting battle of it this afternoon.

After today's activities there will be a surplus until Sunday afternoon when another double-header will be played. Benning's first team will play the Horse Guards in the first game to be followed by a clash between McPherson and the second Benning squad.

All of these games will be of six chukkers duration, there is lots of parking space on the ample McPherson parade ground where the games are played so there's no reason why you shouldn't drive out and spend a pleasant autumn afternoon watching a thrilling game. It will give you quite a large kick.

Sports Done Brown
BY NORMAN E. BROWN.
Clark Griffith, affectionately and otherwise referred to as "The Old Fox," has pulled another fast one in the signing of Walter Johnson as manager of the Washington American league club.

Griffith is going to cash in again on Walter's popularity with Washington fans, after having profited over a period of over 20 years from Walter's ability as a pitcher and his likeable personality, sportsmanship and loyalty.

Johnson appeared through as a major league pitcher at the close of the 1927 campaign and was allowed, therefore, to depart from the Washington club's shelter with little notice.

King Walter's illness the following spring, as he took the managerial reins of the Newark International league club, drew the spotlight to him again and indicated more clearly than ever the esteem in which the baseball public in general held him. When he finally was able to assume command of the Newark club, he proved he had possibilities as a manager.

Meantime, Stanley Harris was riding to a fall as pilot of the Washington club after roosting on the crest of the wave for a few years. Griffith and Harris were known to be at loggerheads as far back as the fall of 1926 when Harris failed to hold the team at a pennant winning pace.

A year ago came rumors that Harris and Griffith had frequent tiffs and it was apparent that Harris' popularity was waning—partly because of rumors that he had become "high hat" and had refused to take suggestions from Griffith and fellow players.

The finish for Harris came the day after the major league season closed, Griffith announcing that the young man would not manage the club next season. Just after the world series came the report that arrangements had been made between Griffith, Walter and Paul Block, owner of the Newark International, to shift Johnson back to Washington as pilot.

Walter may pitch occasionally as well as manage the club, it is said. It is quite obvious that Walter will receive greater acclaim, returning to the club after a brief absence, as pilot, than he would have received had he stepped from the pitcher's box into Harris' shoes a year ago. No one realizes that now, and realized it more a year ago—if you will—than did Clark Griffith.

A Special Helmet.

When a drafted man showed poor eyesight the doctors rejected him and he didn't go to France. But Benny Wattenberg, of Chicago U., couldn't see well enough to throw forward passes so they made him a helmet with a pair of glasses enclosed.

Clemson Frosh Beat Biddies, 2-0

Columbia, S. C., October 24.—(AP) A wild exhibition of scoreless football for three-quarters ended in a safety in the final period here today and the Clemson freshmen beat the South Carolina Biddies 2 to 0. In the fourth period Carolina took safety.

the ball on downs on her 22-yard line. A pass, Brigham to Cohen, carried the ball to Clemson's 47-yard stripe. Dukes lost 11 yards attempting a pass. Welch, Clemson fullback, intercepted a pass in midfield and with a clear field ran to Carolina's 10-yard line where he stumbled, fell, and fumbled. Carolina recovering on her seven-yard line. After two plays Brigham dropped back to punt. Fleming broke through to block the kick and Fordham recovered behind the end zone, the officials ruling it a safety.

Jackets Off Today For Game Saturday With Tarheels

Gresham, Star Tarheel Back, Breaks Hand

North Carolina Scrimmages for Tech Next Saturday at Chapel Hill.

Chapel Hill, N. C., October 24.—(Special.)—Tommy Gresham, veteran backfield star on the University of North Carolina football squad, suffered a broken hand in scrimmage this afternoon, and Tarheel stock for the big scrap with Georgia Tech here Saturday dropped several points. Gresham, who is a senior and playing his final season, has recently been shifted from left half to fullback and was one of the hardest driving backs on the squad.

He suffered the injury while playing defensive with the varsity against Georgia Tech plays, which were run by one of the Tarheel freshman elements. Gresham's injury leaves Harden as the most likely understudy for Edie Board in the varsity fullback position.

This blow comes just when the coaches and trainers have most of the Tarheels rounding into fine fettle for the Golden Tornado. Both Shine Howard and Fenton Adkins, husky tackles, scrimmaged today, and O'Dell Sapp, star end, who has been nursing a charley horse, ran signals with the first varsity in early practice.

Ray Farris, star guard, reported with a charley horse today and worked in light tugs, but Trainer Chuck Quinlan stated that Farris would be in shape for action against Tech. Early work on line and backfield defense was followed this afternoon by an hour of fast-moving scrimmages against the yearlings. The varsity coaches shifted their lineup at will, and nearly three teams saw service.

Al Whisnand, North Carolina quarterback, will take turns with Ward throwing passes this week.

Basketball League Organizes Tonight

A meeting of the City Basketball league will be held tonight at Trammell Scott's store, 66 North Broad street, for the purpose of organization for the coming year. All commercial teams wishing to join the league are requested to have representatives present.

A girls' city league is also being formed and girls' commercial teams are requested to call Major Scott or have representative at tonight's meeting.

Some of the players who are expected to play in the league are: Eddie Zobel, of South Carolina; Eugene McEver, of Tennessee; Cannonball Clyde Crabtree, of Florida; Billy Hicks, of Alabama; Warner Mizell and Stumpy Thomson, of Georgia Tech; Frank Peake, of Virginia Polytechnic institute; Gerald Walker, of the University of Mississippi; Jimmy Armstrong, of Vanderbilt; Abner Barnes, of Virginia Military institute; Snyder, of Maryland; Billy Banker, of Tulane; Herold McCrary, of Georgia; Jimmy Ward, of North Carolina and Reeves, of Louisiana State—just to mention a few of the ones.

With great aid followers of Dixie football in many instances already have openly declared that this star backfield area is twice that of last year.

Versatile Players. Most of the big guns are of most versatile, too. Take Zobel, he can run, pass, punt and is good on defense. Crabtree, Hicks, Mizell, Thomson, Armstrong, Barnes, Ward and Banker, among the others named, can do the same.

Crabtree is perhaps the only back in the nation who can punt or pass equally as well with either foot of hand, as the play may be.

Armistead carries the distinction of being the leading point scorer of the nation in 1927 to bolster any claim his admirers may put forth. McCrary was one of the greatest plungers and scorers of the conference a year ago. In 1927, Peake gained more than 1,700 yards and has started this season giving promise of bettering that mark.

Snyder, of Maryland, gained against Tulane plays.

News From Gridiron Camps Through Country

GREENVILLE, S. C., October 24.—(Special.)—Frank Davis, star kicker of the Furman university football team, today underwent an operation for sinus trouble and will probably be out of the game the remainder of the season. It was announced. He was resting comfortably this afternoon.

Davis is a senior. His loss to the team is a serious one as his punting, in particular, has been counted upon to help win games.

NASHVILLE, TENN., October 24.—Several shifts will probably be made in Vanderbilt's lineup for the game against Virginia Saturday.

Lack of cooperation between the line and backfield in the game last week against Tulane is being worked on by McGugin and his coaching assistants.

Today the varsity went through a shadow scrimmage, while the reserves were sent into a hard workout. Several reserves were ordered into the regular lineup for a few minutes' drill.

Anticipating a "real struggle" with North Carolina State Saturday, Florida's "Gators" have taken up night football practice.

Under the glare of brilliant lights flooding Fleming field, Coach Bachman put his troupe through a long workout, and expressed enthusiasm over the night session plan.

Scoring Stars Are Plentiful In Conference

Every Team Has Versatile Players Ready To Deal Misery in Contests.

Possibly never before has such a galaxy of high-powered scoring stars been found in the Southern conference football race so early in the season.

Most of the big guns are of most versatile, too. Take Zobel, he can run, pass, punt and is good on defense. Crabtree, Hicks, Mizell, Thomson, Armstrong, Barnes, Ward and Banker, among the others named, can do the same.

Crabtree is perhaps the only back in the nation who can punt or pass equally as well with either foot of hand, as the play may be.

Armistead carries the distinction of being the leading point scorer of the nation in 1927 to bolster any claim his admirers may put forth. McCrary was one of the greatest plungers and scorers of the conference a year ago. In 1927, Peake gained more than 1,700 yards and has started this season giving promise of bettering that mark.

Snyder, of Maryland, gained against Tulane plays.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., October 24.—(Special.)—With monthly examinations hampering practice, a new wave descended on the Navy gridiron camp today when Oscar Hagberg, a newly discarded end prospect, received a broken leg during scrimmage.

The injury will prevent his becoming a first-string player this year, if he is able to play at all before the end of the season.

Hardin, Navy center, also went on the unavailing list with injuries. A pounding received in the Notre Dame game aggravated old injuries and he will not recover in time to play against Pennsylvania this Saturday.

The only bright spot for the midshipment was the return of Spring, backfield star.

Possibly never before has such a galaxy of high-powered scoring stars been found in the Southern conference football race so early in the season.

They're sliding into the touchdown column from every section as the Saturdays roll by, giving promise of considerable trouble to the boys who spend idle moments late in the season pondering over mythical all-Southern nominations.

Some of Scorer. There is Eddie Zobel, of South Carolina; Eugene McEver, of Tennessee; Cannonball Clyde Crabtree, of Florida; Billy Hicks, of Alabama; Warner Mizell and Stumpy Thomson, of Georgia Tech; Frank Peake, of Virginia Polytechnic institute; Gerald Walker, of the University of Mississippi; Jimmy Armstrong, of Vanderbilt; Abner Barnes, of Virginia Military institute; Snyder, of Maryland; Billy Banker, of Tulane; Herold McCrary, of Georgia; Jimmy Ward, of North Carolina and Reeves, of Louisiana State—just to mention a few of the ones.

With great aid followers of Dixie football in many instances already have openly declared that this star backfield area is twice that of last year.

RICHMOND, VA., October 24.—(Special.)—With the season not half spent, Virginia college eleven already have registered three the number of field goals tallied the whole of last year.

But last year was lean for Old Dominion too, with only a single field goal on the credit side of the ledger, according to official statistics.

Harner, of V. M. I., has counted twice by this route for the season, with Hooper, of V. P. I., coming through once.

Stickle, of Emory and Henry, leads Old Dominion college kickers for successful trials for extra points after touchdowns, with ten markers to double any other individual output along this line in the state.

Many Close Games Offered This Week

Walter Trumbull Declares Yale and Army Is Real Contest of Day; Tech Favored.

BY WALTER TRUMBULL.

(Copyright, 1924, by North American Newspaper Alliance.) Football games of Saturday present enough of a problem to corrugate the smoothest brow. Starting, as usual, with contests where the results appear fairly sure, we find them as few and far between as snowballs in Death Valley.

Alabama should beat Sewanee; Columbia should defeat Williams; Georgetown should reduce Duke to a fine cut; Florida should trim North Carolina State; Stanford should beat Fresno; Bucknell should conquer Gettysburg; Kentucky should outclass Centre; Maine should be too strong for Bates; Notre Dame should beat Drake; Southern California should run over Occidental; Tennessee should defeat Washington-Lee; Villanova should devastate Lebanon Valley; and Georgia Tech should add the scalp of North Carolina to its collection. Temple should beat Providence.

Doubtful Games.

In games where the outcome is far less sure—and no result is sure in football—Brown should be too strong for Tufts; Purdue should win from Chicago; Wisconsin should beat Michigan; Illinois should flatten Northwestern; Pennsylvania should sink the Navy; Princeton should shade Cornell; and Tulane looks a bit stronger than Georgia. California should beat the Olympic club. New York university should win from Colgate. Boston college should beat Boston university.

Now we come to the touch ones to pick. The Yale-Army, Dartmouth-Harvard, Nebraska-Missouri, Indiana-Ohio State, Iowa-Minnesota, Penn State-Syracuse, Holy Cross-Marquette, Fordham-Washington-Jefferson, Pittsburgh-Carnegie Tech, Vanderbilt-Virginia, and Colby-Bowdoin games should be hard fought and many of these contests look like a case of bet your money and take your choice.

Likely Winners.

Dartmouth, Nebraska, Ohio State, Minnesota, Syracuse, Holy Cross, Fordham, Carnegie Tech, Vanderbilt, the Oregon Aggies, Amherst, Duquesne, West Virginia, and Bowdoin are the more likely winners.

Forethought and hindsight are two widely different things. Some games which look close on paper may be runaways on the field. Some teams which appear to have a big edge may be no out or badly beaten. The only advantage a football doer has is that in each case there are but two contestants. Ties are comparatively few. Like a stock, the chances are that the end of the day will find one side up or down. The trouble is to tell which.

In spite of the odds, if I thought that Harvard would make the most of its potential abilities, I'd pick the Crimson over Dartmouth. Harvard has a powerful line and fine backs. It is like a great racing car with an inexperienced driver. It is not brawn which Harvard lacks, but it has yet to show a real field general. Dartmouth has a fine line and it has Marsters. It also has other good backs and a fine passing game. It is a smart team. The Green is the logical choice.

The Yale-Army game should be a corker. West Point has played one more game and has been up against stiffer opposition. The Cadets have air supremacy. Their is the better passing game. They have Cagle and Murrell.

Yale and Army.

I think that Yale has the better running attack and the cut-back play of the Blue is a long gainer. It only has to get away from the line and it should be a fine clean, hard fought battle, but there is one statement with which I am willing to go on record. Realizing that after the Army took the lead at Cambridge, it played more or less defensive football. I still say that the West Pointers must play better football, both on attack and defense, than they did against Harvard to best Yale.

Getting the jump will mean a lot to either eleven and any break or lucky advantage of play is likely to count heavily. It may even make a difference which captain wins the toss. If these teams play up to their capabilities, spectators should spend an exciting afternoon.

Be SPORTLIGHT

Grantland Rice
THE FEVERISH SIDE.

Just why so many campfollowers of football take the game with such morbid, bitter and sinister interest is among the numerous mysteries of life.

Nearly every football section is replete with a brooding sensitiveness concerning the ranking and the publicity due its teams and its leading stars. Nearly every section seems to feel that its football ability is overlooked by other sections, and this includes teams and individual stars.

Football is a game played by school and college students, where few who play are beyond twenty-two years of age. It is a game close to being a perfect amateur sport as one can find in a highly commercialized age. There are certain flaws, due to proselytizing and the securing of talent by unethical means, but the general average is high in the human field, where almost no one has a batting average of .380 at anything.

The vast majority of school and college football players are amateurs in every detail.

The game itself is full of action, vivid coloring and the main ingredients of sportsmanship.

It is from the outside, off the playing field, that most of the trouble starts. The demand that each coach produce a winner—the demand for more and louder publicity.

How is one to cover the field where there are now over 300 good teams—possibly 400 teams that on a certain afternoon could beat any of the highly boasted squads?

Among the leaders there is no difference in the quality of football as played in the east, south, southwest, far west, Missouri valley and middle west. Football's values in a scoring way are all badly distorted and the lack of the game is terrific. So there is no need of getting worked into any froth about it.

Sons and Fathers.

Dear Sir: You remember Xen Scott, who laid the foundation for Alabama's great teams of the last few years. His son, this year, is playing quarterback at Case School of Applied Science, a member of the Ohio conference. In his collegiate debut he rushed into a game and dropped a goal that won the contest. Bob Fletcher, the former Illinois star, now Case coach, says the boy has one of the finest sets of football brains he has ever found. On a larger school, where ten men and a quarterback make up a team, young Scott might be a national star.

PETON RANDOLPH.

Man Power.

No two fields will have more man power in action on Saturday than Iowa City and Lincoln, Neb. Minnesota and Iowa meet at the first point—Missouri and Nebraska at the other.

Iowa will bank on Mayes McLean, the big Indian back from Haskell, to cope with Bronck, where the fast 200-pound fullback from Minnesota. Missouri and Nebraska will send two big, powerful squads into action—two teams that have both weight and speed.

Missouri has one of its best teams this season—and Nebraska is about as strong as a last year, where Presnell and Howell worked back of a big, active line. Howell is still on hand. These two games could draw triple the capacity of the stands. There will be no harder or better action on any other football field between Cambridge and Berkeley.

What! No Nineteenth Hole?

Dear Sir: Golfer (to his wife)—Please hand me those golf socks. Wife (searching through pile)—I don't see any golf socks over here. Golfer—Those with the 18 holes in them. J. E. Y.

For some strange reason no one has yet heard Gil Doble predicting that Cornell would beat Princeton by four or five touchdowns. Or have we in some way managed to miss the interview?

After bumping against Davis-Ellins, Boston college and Notre Dame, the Navy has nothing to do on Saturday but throw a barbed wire in front of Scull, Shober, Murphy and three or four more Penn backs who happen to be working back of a strong line.

"What about Weston, of Boston college?" asks a reader. One of the best, whether it is football or baseball.

Junior Jackets Play Saturday

The Baby Tigers of Auburn will clash with Tech's Junior Jackets here Saturday afternoon at Grant field in the absence of the varsity which will be playing at Chapel Hill. The freshmen engineers defeated the Aggies last week in their initial game and hope to repeat this week against the stronger Poly team. According to reports more than 175 freshmen have reported for the team at Auburn and the resulting team is said to be one of the strongest first year aggregations yet to come out of that school.

In the meantime the frosh at Tech are working overtime, perfecting their line and offensive work.

U.S.B. To Play Gordon Today

University School for Boys will meet Gordon institute of Barnesville at Spiller field this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The contest was set up from Friday due to conflicting dates, according to Coach Flake Laird of U. S. B. Captain Carpenter will not play quarterback for U. S. B. due to injuries and several other of the University school players are likely to see action only a part of the game due to minor injuries.

Gordon, which defeated the Mercer freshmen yesterday, it reported to have one of the strongest teams in years. This will be the first time in several seasons that the Barnesville eleven has played in Atlanta, it was stated.

A back who can do his share of anything needed at the moment.

There may be more star backs in action on Saturday than Harvard and Dartmouth together will show, but don't bet that way.

Today's Golf Menu.

"Thanks," writes L. P., "for your dope on the use of hands and wrists. I had been trying everything else and had about forgotten that I had any hands or wrists. After giving them a chance I suddenly discovered they had quite a little to say about the speed and the control of the clubhead. One trouble about golf is that one forgets the obvious things and goes into correcting nightmares."

No one who follows an open championship can overlook the work allotted by the leading stars to hands and wrists. You get the impression that they do about 70 per cent of the work.

Corrects the mistakes of old-time shaving preparations

Palmolive Shaving Cream is a scientific creation. Men by the millions are flocking to its use.

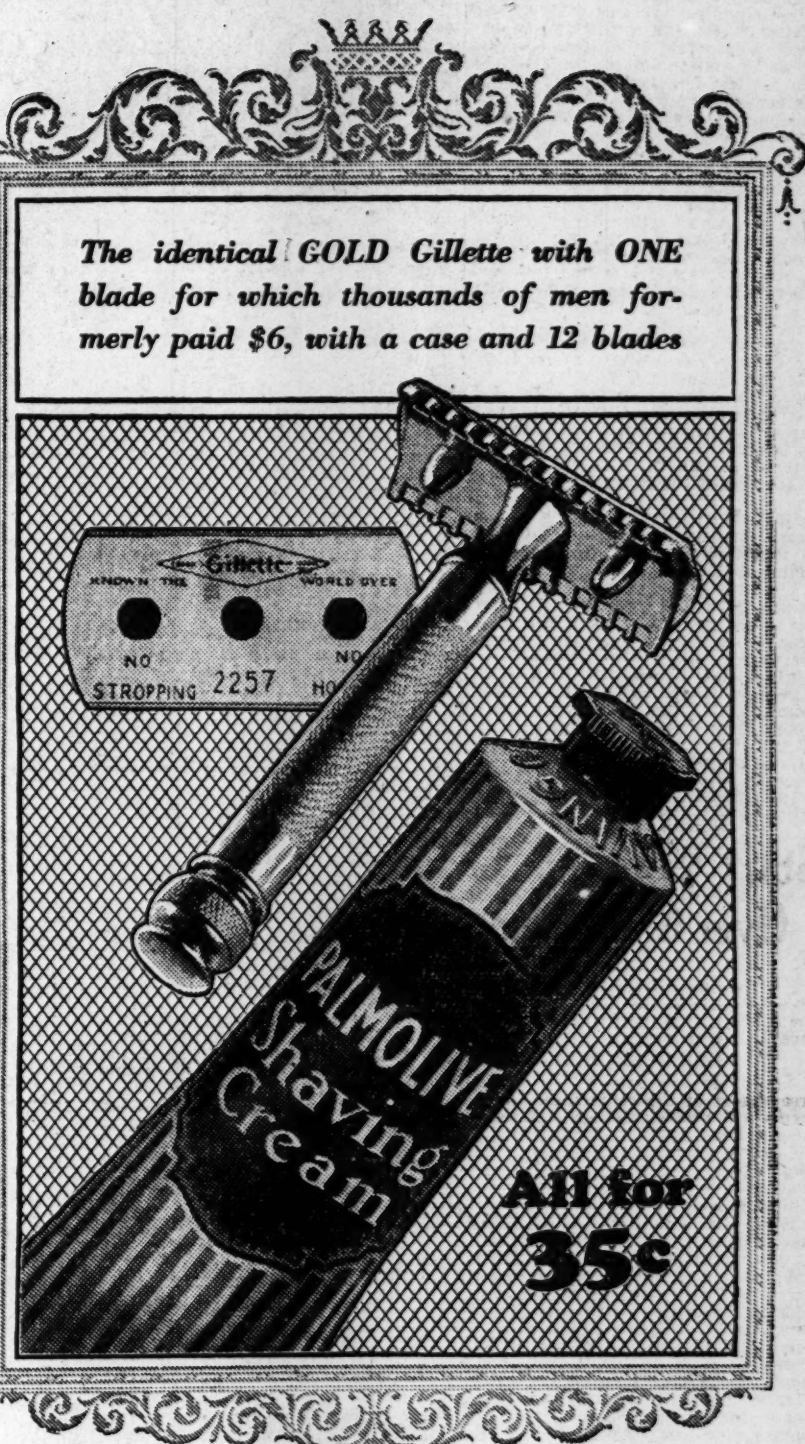

We started by asking 1000 men what they most desired in a shaving soap. Then met their exactness one by one. It is different in formula, action and effect from any other shaving preparation known. It corrects the 5 mistakes of old-time shaving preparations.

1. It multiplies itself in lather 250 times.
2. It softens the beard in one minute.
3. The lather maintains its creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face.
4. The extra strong bubbles support the hairs for cutting, where weak bubbles let them fall down.
5. The blend of palm and olive oils brings fine after-effects.

Accept today

Now to win you over to a trial, we make an offer which we believe is the most remarkable any manufacturer ever made to gain a fair trial for his product.

In your interest and in ours, please accept it today. Go now to the drug store. You'll thank us for the gift today—and for many days—for the new shaving comforts our cream offers you.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

Stocks the first two hours were wild under the leadership of General Motors, Chrysler and Steel common, the last named making a new high for the outstanding stock, that is before the 40 per cent stock dividend was paid last year. For the first two hours the pace was a. the rate of over 5,000,000 shares for the full five-hour session. At noon the tape was anywhere from 43 to 53 minutes behind trading on the stock exchange floor.

Transactions occurring on the stock exchange floor are carried by messengers to ticker operators, the quotations sent out on the ticker being printed on four circuits. When the printing of stocks grouped in the first circuit is completed other circuits in turn are taken up requiring ten minutes to make the rounds of the four circuits thus explaining the difference of ten minutes in the delay in printing some quotations on the ticker throughout the country to show what is going on on the stock exchange floor.

Banks Call Loans.

Call money opened at six per cent but in the noon hour the supply began to dwindle with the banks starting to call loans. This together with the tickers in keeping out of the touch with what was going on on the stock exchange floor slowed down trading in stocks on the New York Stock Exchange.

The New York Stock Exchange is not the only stock exchange here in New York doing an unprecedented business. A year ago at this time the daily turn over on the curb market was around 300,000 shares. It has been averaging 1,000,000 shares for weeks with a seat changing hands today at a new high of $120,000. The high for last year was $87,000 and the low $22,000. Seats on the New York Stock Exchange did not touch $120,000 until 1925. For the two previous years the price dropped to $70,000. This year's low was $200,000 with the high recently touched at $480,000.

Until today officials of International Nickel have been saying repeatedly that there was nothing in the rumors that plans were under way for a merger of International Nickel and the Canadian and British interests had obtained control of International Nickel; that there would be a split of International Nickel into two companies, one to be controlled by the International Nickel Company and the other by the Canadian and British interests. Today's announcement by Chairman Hayden of International Nickel is understood by Wall Street to confirm all of the rumors recently circulated, merely postponing the official announcement of the merger and split-up.

See Fight for Control.

The understanding here is that the price of 194 recently touched for International Nickel against the year's low of 73 5/8 was brought about partly by call money buying for control over foreign interests winning the fight by frightened buying by professional traders who were short of the stock.

General Electric reports a surplus for the nine months ending with September of $38,841,000 against $37,193,000 for the same period of 1927 and $21,280,000 for 1926. A preliminary report for the fiscal year ending with September with the surplus for dividends $19,015,000 against $13,277,000 for 1927, $13,187,000 for 1926 and $8,667,000 for 1925.
